NEWS OF THE DAY.

—War!

—The coal dealer rejoiceth.

—Canada already has had two feet of snow.

—They are talking Turkey in Europe already.

—Russia unmasks and shows a belligerent front.

—Soldiers, remember Andersonville and Libby and vote as you shot.

—The trial of Mrs. House, at Trenton, was concluded yesterday and she was acquitted.

—Fernando Wood and Abram S. Hewitt have been nominated for Congress in New York by the Democrats.

—The 26th has been fixed as Ohio Day, and Governor Hayes will have a reception then at the Centennial.

—The handsomest woman in Europe is the Countess de Castiglione, who belonged to the late Emperor's court.

—It is said the amount of duty thus far paid into the United States Treasury on account of foreign exhibits at the Centennial is about $75,000.

—Edward Stokes leaves his prison at 8 o'clock on Saturday morning, October 28th. He is now a middle-aged man; his hair is prematurely gray, his figure stooped, and the entire man broken by sickness and irritability.

—A dispatch from Yuma, Arizona, yesterday, says: Ground will be broken this afternoon on both sides of the Colorado River, and the approaches to the river on either side will be graded at once for the Texas & Pacific Railroad.

—The question, gentlemen, is simply this: Are you willing to let a solid South, with a railroad wrecker at its head, take $2,500,000,000 out of the United States Treasury to reimburse itself for losses sustained in trying to destroy the Union?

—The Rev. Phœbe Hanaford has recently had the pleasure of exchanging pulpits with her son and of officiating at the marriage of her daughter, to say nothing of her services being required as an assistant at a fashionable wedding in her neighborhood.

—It may require several generations yet to produce a woman with courage enough to discard the fashion of bundling her throat in two or three yards of a necktie. This device is intended for an ornament, but it looks more like a rag poultice.

—A well-known firm of steel manufacturers in Sheffield has announced its intention of "carrying the war into the enemy's works" by establishing works at Syracuse, N. Y. They propose to use the same methods and material that are employed in the Sheffield house.

—Mr. George William Curtis somewhat strikingly says all that can now be said of the Earl of Beaconsfield in the splendid exile of the Upper Chamber is that the old man under the Beaconsfield coronet, the peer without ancestry and without descendants, was once Benjamin Disraeli.

—The Czar Alexander receives, in round numbers, $25,000 a day income; the Turkish Sultan, $18,000; the Emperor of Austria, $10,000; the Emperor of Germany, $8,200; the King of Italy, $6,440; the Queen of England, $6,270; the King of the Belgians, $1,643; and the President of the French Republic, $500.

—It is reported that Mr. Emerson has a hearty Saxon liking for strong language. An acquaintance says that one day as he stood talking with him on the street they overheard a passing stranger utter a resonant oath, which did not, however, trifle with thing sacred. Said the Concord sage, quaintly: "That sounds very fructifying."

—The Southern claims are aptly likened by the Toledo Blade to a "modern Jonah's gourd." It suggests that at the rates at which sugar, molasses, corn, &c., are charged for by the Southern sufferers, it would be cheaper for the Government even to buy out a thousand or so retail corner groceries, and repay the debts in kind.

—Woman's fickleness and perfidy have formed the theme of many a romance, but the most precious creature who ever attempted to deceive frail man is doubtless Mrs. Daniel Goldschmidt. This lady was searched the other day at New York by the custom-house officials upon her return from Europe, and in the false bosom of her dress were found $20,000 worth of jewelry.

—The prospect is that we shall have a severe winter. All the "signs," as the oldest inhabitants say, point to that. Snow has fallen in various parts of the country at a very early date, and this, in conjunction with the other indications, convince the prophets that we are going to have a rough time of it for the next few months. "But "signs" of this kind are not always reliable.

—The Rev. Mr. Talmage has invited his guest, Mr. Martin Farquhar Tupper, to take his place in the pulpit next Sunday and read an essay on the Immortality of the Soul. Considering that Mr. Tupper has devoted himself of late years to dramatic literature, and has come over to read to American audiences a play which he would be quite willing to see produced upon the stage, his appearance in the pulpit will be a suggestion of the theater of a different character from that to which Mr. Talmage's hearers are accustomed. It would be interesting to know whether the invitation is due to a liberal hospitality or a slight change of views.

—The interviews with the President published in the New York Herald were written by one of its Washington correspondents, and submitted to the President before printing. It is said that the President acted upon Emory Storrs' advice, and decided to open his mouth to the newspapers. Storrs is reported to have informed the President that the latter had made a mistake during his entire administration by so completely snubbing the newspapers, and also to have told the President that whenever he had anything to say upon any subject the people would be more willing to believe his side of the story than that put in circulation by his slanderers.

—Four travelers crossed the Niagara recently by ferry below the Falls, and hired a colored coachman to drive them to the Clifton House. Says one: "Now, coachman, you have behind you an Englishman, an Irishman, a Scotchman and a Yankee. Which of us would you rather draw up the hill?" "The Yankee." "Why?" "Because a Yankee if he has only a dollar in his pocket will spend it, while an Englishman, if he has a thousand, will argue about a quarter." The number of foreign visitors at Niagara during the past season has been unprecedently large. The hackmen, however, have a violent antipathy for Englishmen, as a worrying, unpardonably close, and incontinently argumentative class.

Excitement in the Chicago Wheat Market.

CHICAGO, October 18.—There was intense excitement on Change for a portion of the day, and the anxiety to learn the war news from the East increased continually until the close. November wheat advanced from $1.11¾, the close last night, to $1.17, with very little reaction; but from that point receded quickly to $1.14¾, and fluctuated violently till the close, when it was strong. Ranney & Ingles, one of the oldest houses in the grain business, who have always done a large Canadian business, failed to-day. The liabilities are not yet known. The business transacted to-day has been the heaviest for a long time, perhaps since the Franco-Prussian war. It is stated that the transactions for the November options alone were twenty millions bushels. Cash wheat is at present held in strong hands, and is virtually "cornered" here, though prices maintain their proportion. The developments of the coming week are anxiously awaited.

A Ship Wrecked on the California Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 18.—A dispatch from Spanish Town, about thirty miles down the coast, reports the ship Rydal Hall, from Cardiff, consigned to Balfour, Guthrie & Co., here, was wrecked near there last night at eight o'clock. Nine hands were lost trying to get ashore. The balance were taken off this morning by a whaler from a station near by. The Captain is still on board, refusing to come ashore. The ship is fast on the rocks. The sea is breaking over her, and she will probably soon go to pieces.

Convention of Locomotive Engineers.

DETROIT, October 18.—The International Division of Locomotive Engineers of the United States and Canadas began their thirteenth annual meeting in this city to-day. The public exercises took place at the Young Men's hall, where an address of welcome was delivered to the members of the organization by Major Lewis, which was formally responded to by T. S. Ingraham, of Cleveland. The convention met at Merrell hall at 2 P. M., but nothing was done except business of a routine character.

Accident in a Steel Works.

ST. LOUIS, October 18.—As a quantity of converted steel was being poured into an ingot mould at the Vulcan Steel Works in South St. Louis last night, the mould burst, scattering the melted steel in every direction. A large number of men were working in that part of the building at that time, six of whom were badly burned and otherwise injured, two of them, Stephen D. Roderick and Patrick Reilly, perhaps fatally.

FIRST EDITION.

ARMY REUNION.

Annual Meeting of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee—Dedication of a Monument to Gen. McPherson.

WASHINGTON, October 18.—The tenth annual meeting of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee was held this morning at Lincoln Hall. About one hundred and twenty-five members were present, together with a large number of spectators. Gen. Sherman, President of the Society, calling the meeting to order, said that to-day was set apart more especially for the unveiling and dedication of, and for unfurling the banner from the McPherson monument. But previous to this there would be several hours for the transaction of business pertaining to the Society. The meeting was formally opened with prayer by Rev. Mason Noble, United States Navy, and committees were appointed to nominate officers for the ensuing year, to designate the time and place for the next meeting, and to select an orator for that occasion.

A note was read from the Private Secretary of President Grant, saying it would give the latter great pleasure to meet again and take by the hand such of his associates of the Army of the Tennessee as may be pleased to call upon him at nine o'clock on Thursday night. The invitation was accepted, as was also an invitation to visit Mt. Vernon to-morrow. Letters of regret were read from Governor Hartranft and Generals Pope, Dix, Wright, Newton, Crook, Augur and Townsend and Commodore Almors and others.

General Sherman said he had received a telegram from Lieutenant General Sheridan, requesting him to give his best love and undying respect to the Society. General Sheridan was unavoidably kept at Chicago by public duties, but his heart was present with the Society. A letter was also read from Governor Hayes, of Ohio, regretting that important public duties prevented his attendance.

Gen. J. B. Hood, who commanded the Confederate army against the Army of the Tennessee, and who was a classmate of McPherson, sent a letter of regret that he was unable to accept the invitation to attend this meeting, but expressed his sincere admiration of McPherson for his noble qualities. A letter was also read from Col. W. R. Boggs, of Virginia, in which he said: "Between McPherson and myself there always existed the warmest personal ties. Although in the late civil war we were naturally on different sides, it never for a moment suspended our personal relations and mutual friendship."

A satisfactory report was made on the subject of the McPherson monument in Washington. From the discussion which followed it appears that the monument will be erected over McPherson's remains at Clyde, Ohio, subscriptions for that purpose having been made. Gen. Bullock presented in a few remarks, which were received with much favor, a large and handsomely executed photograph of the late Gen. McPherson.

The society then adjourned to attend the ceremonies of the dedication of the monument, and at one o'clock the column was formed under the command of Major General David Hunter, Chief Marshal, consisting of mounted police, the Fort McHenry band, several companies of military, the Marine Corps and band, the orator of the day, Gen. Logan, and the chairmen of the respective Committees of Arrangements, prominent civil officers, the Society of the Army of the Tennessee, officers of the army and navy, and invited guests, the Veteran Club of the Republic, and officers, soldiers and sailors who served during the late war.

It was nearly two o'clock before the procession reached the Executive Mansion, where it was reviewed by President Grant. On the route a number of residences and places of business were decorated with flags, and every point whence a view of the procession could be obtained was occupied by spectators. At McPherson square the crowd was so dense that it completely cut off part of the procession that was on foot, and it was with great difficulty that members of the Society could make their way to the grand stand. The statue was covered with a large American flag. On the stand were the President and members of the Cabinet, Gen. Sherman and his staff, and the following: Admiral Porter, Generals Schofield, Humphreys, Dunn, Whipple, Van Vliet, Benet, Vincent, and other invited guests of prominence. Among others of the members of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee were Generals Hickenlooper, Chas. Ewing, W. T. Clark, Poe, Macfelley, Belknap, Vandever, Force, Tilson, Kinney, Buckland; Colonels Dayton, Andenried, Markland, Brush, Barnum, Noble, Lynch, Wells, Bacon, Loomis, Deimling, and Majors Dunn and McArthur.

Gen. Sherman called the meeting to order. Rev. McCarty, a retired chaplain of the army, offered a prayer for the continued prosperity of the Government. The prayer was followed by sacred music by the Marine Band. Gen. Hickenlooper was introduced by Gen. Sherman, and delivered an address, concluding with the following remarks: "And now, with thanks to you personally, General Logan, for the thought that prompted its execution, we transfer to your care a statue significant of the unparalleled heroism, characteristic daring, unselfish patriotism and gentle demeanor of our loved and lamented commander, Major General James B. McPherson."

The statue was then unveiled with cheers from the crowd, music by the Marine Band, and firing of guns in Lafayette square.

General Sherman then introduced General J. A. Logan, who delivered an eloquent tribute to the memory of General McPherson. The orator was frequently interrupted by applause, and at the conclusion of his address was warmly congratulated by distinguished persons on the platform. The band then played the Centennial Exposition March, and the crowd slowly dispersed. The statue is an equestrian figure, heroic in size. It is mounted upon a massive granite pedestal, handsomely designed. McPherson is represented as viewing the field of battle. He grasps the check reins of the horse on which he is mounted in his left hand, and his right hand holds a field glass, which appears just removed from his eyes.

The Society held a meeting to-night at Lincoln Hall. Captain Phelps, one of the Commissioners for the District of Columbia, welcomed the members as "Brave men, whose deeds form a part of our national history." The song of "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp" was then sung, when General Thayer, who commanded in the Army of the Tennesee, delivered the annual address.

Calls were made for President Grant, who hesitated, when Gen. Sherman said he would endeavor to prevail on the President for a speech. Subsequently the President remarked that he was very happy to welcome his old comrades, as he was the first commander of the Army of the Tennessee, and felt proud of it. But, he said, General Sherman could make a better speech than himself. This called out the General, who made a few remarks, which were warmly applauded.

Chief Justice Waite and Gen. Garfield respectively briefly addressed the audience, and Gen. Sherman made a few closing remarks, when the meeting adjourned, the band playing a patriotic air.

THE INDIANA ELECTION.

Official Majorities on the Congressional and State Ticket.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 18.—The official majorities on the Congressional vote is as follows: Democratic—First District, 1,569; Second, 5,153; Third, 5,469; Twelfth, 6,335. Republican—Fourth District, 332; Fifth, 1,509; Sixth, 276; Seventh, 1,398; Eighth, 1,100; Ninth, 1,410; Tenth, 1,148; Eleventh, 1,448; Thirteenth, 2,022.

The Independent vote for Congress is as follows: First District, 1,240; Second, 944; Third, 1,034; Fourth, 378; Fifth, 9; Sixth, 816; Seventh, 1,595; Eighth, 4,704; Ninth, 3,349; Tenth, 28; Eleventh, nothing; Twelfth, 675; Thirteenth, 186.

The official vote for the entire State for Governor has been received, except Stark county. Estimating the latter, Williams' majority over Harrison is 5,119.

Later.—The aggregate vote on the State ticket is 433,403, of which Mr. Williams receives 213,098, Harrison 207,979, and Harrington (Independent) 12,226; Williams' majority over Harrison, 5,119. The largest Independent vote cast was for Newsom, candidate for Treasurer of State 15,945. The Legislature stands: House: Republicans, 53; Democrats, 45; Independents, 2. Senate: Republicans, 23; Democrats, 25; Independents, 2.

The Yellow Fever Epidemic.

SAVANNAH, October 18.—The Health Officer publishes a notice, saying absent citizens are cautioned and warned against returning to the city until official notice is given that it will be safe to do so. The decrease in the mortuary report is encouraging, and indicates an early termination of the epidemic, but it is far from safe for absentees to return.

SAVANNAH, October 18.—The deaths from yellow fever were three.

The Rainy Season in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 18.—The rainy season began yesterday with a considerable fall of rain, lasting throughout the day and night, and threatened continuance this morning. Dispatches from various points in the interior report the storm general. Considerable damage is feared to large quantities of wheat piled in the vicinity of railway stations and river landings.

THAT SUPPOSED ROBBER.

The St. Louis Authorities Convinced that He is not Frank James, and Release Him.

ST. LOUIS, October 18.—About noon to-day Hon. Celsus Price and D. C. Stone, of this city, made a formal demand upon Jas. C. Neidlet, Vice President of the Board of Police Commissioners, for the unconditional release of the prisoner who has been confined at the Four Courts several days under the supposition that he was Frank James, one of the alleged Northfield bank robbers. The demand was based on what is deemed good evidence that the man is not only not Frank James, but that he has had no connection with the James boys, and had nothing to do with the robbery. This evidence is greatly strengthened by the opinion of the physicians and surgeons who have made a critical examination of his wound, that the injury could not have been inflicted within four months, and may have been received as long as a year ago. The demand was promptly complied with, and an order at once issued by Mr. Neidlet directing the Chief of Police, McDonough, to release the prisoner, and he was immediately taken to the Southern Hotel, where he is now stopping. Major Rainwater, a member of the Police Board, joined in the demand upon the Vice President, he having believed all the time that the man was wrongly held in duress. The belief seems to be that the man is Goodwin, as he claims, and that his story about himself is at least measurably true. He intimates that he will remain here and prosecute for false imprisonment.

INDIAN DEPREDATIONS.

Raids on Ranchemen Near Laramie Peak.

CHEYENNE, October 18.—Almost every hour brings news of new depredations by Indians upon ranchemen located west and north of the Chug. On Sunday last Eccoffey and Cuny's train, near Laramie Peak, was run down to Kent's, on the Laramie river, and a saddle blanket and vest belonging to a man named Sullivan, of the Independent volunteers, was found near that place, and he is probably killed. Frank Sprager was attacked on Monday on his ranche at the old mill near Laramie Peak. He fought the Indians during the whole day, killing two. They burned his hay and ranche, and run off all of his stock. He escaped barefooted to George's ranche, on Richard Creek, before the Indians fired the bushes in which he had been concealed. Kerr, who arrived at Chug to-day, saw an Indian camp within two miles of Searight's ranche, and men and ammunition left here on his order to-day. A body of Indians are camped at the head of North Laramie, distant from Fort Laramie fifty miles. A party of volunteers who went in search of Ashenfelter and the mail carrier from Laramie City, who was due at Chug on Monday, returned to night to that place, having discovered no trace of the missing men.

A DEMOCRATIC QUARREL.

Morrissey Leaves the Anti-Tammany Faction.

NEW YORK, October 18.—At a meeting of the Anti-Tammany Conference Committee this afternoon, at Irving Hall, a letter addressed to Hon. E. B. West, from Hon. Jno Morrissey, was received, in which he tendered his resignation as a member of the Executive Conference Committee, and also severed his connection with it as a political body, stating that he esteemed the success of the Democratic ticket at the coming elections as of infinitely greater importance than the success of any mere office seekers. He regarded the action of the convention last Saturday as inimical to the interests of the Democratic party. The feeling on receipt of the letter was that Morrissey should be expelled from the convention. The chairman informed him by letter that his resignation was accepted with great pleasure, and it was well rid of one who was engaged in conspiracies and holding secret conferences with the enemy, especially with John Kelly, with a view of surrendering the organization to Tammany Hall. He also stated that the body appreciated his sentiments in regard to the success of the Democratic ticket, and it fully understood the treacherous course he had been pursuing, solely for the purpose of promoting his own personal aims.

Colored Masons in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, October 18.—In the Masonic Grand Lodge to-day a very earnest discussion was held on the point of order relative to the recognition of the colored Masonic Grand Lodge of Ohio. The question of their recognition was presented last year and laid over until this session. To-day the Committee on Jurisprudence reported the matter back, with a resolution recommending the recognition of the colored Grand Lodge. The point of order was then made that under the constitution Grand Lodge resolutions were not in order, except as an amendment to the constitution itself. The Grand Master overruled the point of order, and held that the resolutions were in order. An appeal was taken from this decision, and was sustained by the Grand Lodge, there being about twenty-five majority in favor of the appeal. The present Grand officers were all re-elected. Columbus was chosen as the place of the next meeting.

Woman's Union Missionary Society.

NEW YORK, October 18.—The Woman's Union Missionary Society resumed its session in the Church of the Pilgrims, Brooklyn, to-day. Mrs. O. F. Avery, Treasurer of the Chicago branch, spoke on the work they had accomplished there in spite of the opposition of several clergymen. Mrs. Isaac Williams, of the Philadelphia branch, reported collections amounting to $5,000. This did not include a legacy of $14,000. Mrs. Brint, of the Boston branch, said they started there with a membership of nine, who contributed twenty dollars yearly each. The first year they raised $1,000, and since that time the work had been rapidly increasing.

The Turf.

BOSTON, October 18.—At Mystic Park to-day the race was the 2:22 class, purse $400. Cornee, 1, 1, 1; May Bird, 4, 2, 3; Bella, 2, 4, 3; Bonner, 5, 4, 2; Hannah, 3, 5, 5. Time 2:23, 2:23 and 2:24¼.

PHILADELPHIA, October 18.—A three days' running meeting at Point Breeze Park was inaugurated to-day. The attendance was fair. The first event was a dash of ¾ mile; won by First Chance; time 1:15 Second race, dash of 1 mile, won by Inspiration; time 1:44½. The third and last event, a dash of 1½ miles; won by Tom O'Neal; time 2:44.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

RICHMOND, VA., October 18.—George Smoot, white, and Isaac Howell, colored, were killed, and Ben Ford, colored, fatally injured by an explosion of four boilers yesterday at the Carbon Hill coal mines, in Goochland county, fourteen miles from Richmond. The cause of the accident was carelessness in allowing the water in the boilers to become exhausted, and then turning on a great stream of cold water. There were thirteen boilers about the mines. Several buildings in the vicinity were wrecked. No one in the mines was hurt.

Troops Ordered to Columbia, S. C.

FORT MONROE, VA., October 18.—General Barry received telegraphic instructions from Washington this morning to send four companies of artillery from this post at once to Columbia, S. C., to report to Major General Ruger.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., October 18.—Battery B, First United States Artillery, and ten men from Battery K, now at Fort Adams, have received orders to proceed forthwith to Columbia, S. C.

All Quiet at Cainhoy, S. C.

CHARLESTON, S. C., October 18.—All has been quiet to-day at Cainhoy. A small force of armed citizens from Charleston remain in the village, the residents fearing that if this guard is withdrawn their homes will be fired. News received to-night that a company of United States troops are on their way from Columbia to Cainhoy causes great satisfaction. The President's proclamation causes no excitement and little comment here.

Marine News.

LARNE, October 18.—The steamship State of Pennsylvania, from New York, has arrived.

NEW YORK, October 18.—The steamships Steinman, from Antwerp, France, from London, and Montana, from Liverpool, have arrived.

HAVRE, October 18.—The steamer La Canada, from New York, has arrived.

Commemorating the Surrender of Cornwallis.

PHILADELPHIA, October 18.—The Society of the Cincinnati commemorate to-day the surrender of Cornwallis, and very many of its members from other States are present to participate in the celebration. This morning they met at Eleventh and Walnut streets. To-night they will visit the Pennsylvania Club rooms. To-morrow they visit the Exhibition in a body, and in the evening dine with the Reform Club.

The British Fleet at Halifax Awaiting Orders.

HALIFAX, October 18.—The British fleet here has been ordered to remain until further orders, instead of proceeding to the West Indies for the winter, as usual.

A Gloomy Feeling.

PESTH, October 18.—Intelligence from Vienna states that England considers all diplomatic action at Constantinople at an end. This statement has produced a very gloomy feeling here, and war is considered unavoidable.

Roumanian Troops Under Russian Officers.

Advices from Bucharest state that an agreement has been concluded between Roumania and Russia for placing Roumanian troops under Russian officers in case of war.

A correspondent telegraphs an interview with Ristics, Servian Prime Minister, in which the latter states that the resumption of hostilities, in which Russia will participate, is certain.

War Declared by Russia

LONDON, October 18.—Correspondents at different points telegraph as follows: All Russians in Paris under the age of forty have been ordered home. The new Russian ironclad Peter the Great is to leave Cronstadt immediately for the Mediterranean. Russia has issued a circular note, announcing that in the interests of humanity she feels bound to march troops into Bulgaria and Armenia. There are 82,000 men at the camps of Beuder, and 64,000 around Tiflis. Austria's eastern policy will conform to that of Russia and Germany.

The report is contradicted this morning that an agreement had been entered into between Russia and Roumania, that the latter should furnish a contingent in case of war.

The Times editorially says: The hopes we have so anxiously cherished must, we fear, at length be abandoned, and we must recognize the fact that the negotiations are practically at an end, and that the two belligerents now face to face in European Turkey must be left to the consequences of their fate. Another twenty-four hours has brought no relief to the tension under which we were laboring, and events are evidently moving too fast on the Danube to be arrested by the slow progress of even telegraphic diplomacy.

England and the War.

LONDON, October 18.—The Daily Telegraph, in a leading article, says England, much as she loves and desires peace, must wage war from end to end of the world rather than permit the Russian flag to be hoisted at Constantinople. Lord Derby justly said that for British interests the Eastern question centered in Constantinople, and we hold it clear to all sensible and resolute Englishmen that at the first overt invasion of Turkish territory the British fleet, with the assent of the Sultan, should most assuredly cast anchor in the Golden Horn. Those to whom such a step might appear like help for the Turks may take comfort, for it would be simply an act vital to British security, and accomplished in the name of and for the protection of British rights. If it were not done, Asia, from Scutari to Shanghai, would know and proclaim immediately that we had abdicated the sceptre of the East, and the commerce along all our Oriental lines would live at the mercy of a future Black Sea squadron.

Railway Transportation.

VIENNA, October 18.—It is stated that a convention has been concluded by Russia with the Roumanian railway companies, by which the latter engaged to make preparations for transporting altogether 250,000 troops at the rate of at least 25,000 daily.

French Neutrality.

PARIS, October 18.—All the evening papers declare that if the peace of Europe is disturbed, France will rigorously observe a policy of abstinence,

Russia and Servia Determined to Fight.

LONDON, October 19.—The Standard's dispatch from Belgrade says there is some talk of a proposal for an armistice until December 31st. It matters little what proposal is made. It is the opinion of well informed people that Russia is bent on carrying on the war until she gains a clear road to Constantinople. Only the armed coalition of Europe will make her swerve. It is tedious to repeat this every day, but it cannot be too strongly impressed on Europe that preparations are making in Servia utterly inconsistent with any pacific profession which the St. Petersburg Cabinet may put forth. If Russia meant peace, the preparations would be insanity.

The Times' telegram from Belgrade says Russians state that a European war will not begin until early in the spring, when, if necessary, Russia will be prepared to do something in the direction of India.

A Berlin correspondent of the Times telegraphs that Turkey seems favorable to an armistice of six weeks, provided Russia does not insist upon the dismemberment of the Ottoman Empire. If Russia does, Turkey will let her do her worst.

LONDON, October 19.—A Paris correspondent of the Times reports that the symptoms of accord between Russia and Germany become more evident, and unfortunate Austria, placed between her formidable neighbors, must ultimately obey them. The only thing which keeps Russia back is that Austrian neutrality is not enough. She wants Austria's co-operation. France and England are the only powers that sincerely desire peace, and the Russian programme which will now be put forward is one which Turkey will rather fall by the sword than accept. England and France should have an understanding and force their pacific views on Turkey.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Cabinet Council.

LONDON, October 19.—Late on Tuesday evening summons were issued for a Cabinet council to be held to-day (Thursday), and several Ministers arrived in town last night. It is rumored that the Government contemplates calling an autumnal session of Parliament in consequence of the grave aspect of the Eastern question. It is also said that the Government has applied to the Lloyds to have ships ready to transport troops.

The Advertiser says it is reported that Lord Napier, of Magdala, has been ordered to hold himself in readiness to take command of the troops which may be sent to Egypt.

Russia's Iron Clad Navy.

The Standard prints an imposing table descriptive of the iron vessels of the Russian navy. It shows that they are twenty-eight in number, and carry from two to twenty-six guns each.

Troops for the Mediterranean.

The Times, in a leader, says: It is stated that orders have been given by the War Office to the commander-in-chief to hold three army corps in readiness for immediate despatch to the Mediterranean; also that plans for the defense of Constantinople prepared by royal engineers have been forwarded to the Admiral commanding the British fleet in Besika Bay.

The Times states that there is nothing but what is ordinary and necessary in calling the Cabinet together at such an emergency. It will be only common sense to await the results of its deliberations before giving credence to less authentic statements. No such measures as those reported can be taken without consideration by the Cabinet, and the first council since events took the present anxious turn will be held to-day, for purposes of action. At sea we are as near the seat of probable disturbances as any other power. Much more must happen before English interests are menaced so as to call for our immediate interposition. It is not to be denied that great danger might arise. We must be prepared to defend all points threatened, but the mere danger of Turkey will not precipitate such measures. Neither Parliament nor the country would even hear of going to war in behalf of Turkey. She had her opportunities, and has thrown them away. It would be criminal folly to expend the smallest amount of English blood or treasure in her support.

SPAIN.

Carlist Manifestations.

BARCELONA, October 18.—The Spanish pilgrimages to Rome have been converted into Carlist manifestations. The pilgrims, upon embarking, cheered for Don Carlos.

BILBAO, October 18.—The Civil Governor of Biscay has been suspended. Fresh arrests have been made, causing great uneasiness. General Quesada is expected here.

The Spanish Pilgrims at the Vatican.

LONDON, October 18.—The Daily News has a special from Rome announcing that the committee which superintended the reception of the Spanish pilgrims by the Pope on Monday, and who were principally Carlists, refused to admit the Spanish Ambassador to Italy and his attaches, although they were duly provided with tickets.

Parliament Summoned.

BERLIN, October 18.—An imperial decree is published to-day summoning Parliament to meet on October 30.

MARINE DISASTER.

A Ship Foundered in Australian Waters.

A Great Many Lives Lost.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 18.—Melbourne advices of the 23d ult. report all hopes of any of the passengers or crew left on the steamer Dandenong, which foundered off Jervis Bay on the 11th ult., abandoned. Part of the wreck has come ashore. The bark Albert Williams took off the passengers and twelve of the crew. The following is a list of the passengers so far as the names could be ascertained: Mrs. Whitworth, Mrs. Braidie, Mrs. McConnah, Mr. and Mrs. Wakefield, Miss Ellen Smith, Miss Hilliard, Miss Elizabeth Murray, Miss M. Murray, Miss Agnes Wakefield, Miss Annie Wakefield, Messrs. Winship Ash, G. Chambers, S. J. Malley, H. M. Steele Wright, Wm. Murray, Hartley Hardy, Masters Whitworth, Jno. Wakefield, Thos. Wakefield, Fred. Wakefield, and twenty-eight in the steerage. There may have been other passengers on board whose names were not noticed in the passenger list. The following are the names of those saved. Passengers—Capt. Dougall, Edwd. Walters, Richard Walters, Samuel Gelding; Frederick Ash, W. Blair, T. Osborne, J. Henry, J. Hartley, J. Whitworth, J. McGrath, J. Brown, G. Chambers, Mrs. Blair and child, Miss J. Brown, Miss M. Walshman, Mrs. Edmunds and two children, Mrs. Ward, Sister Colosvicities of St. Joseph; Elizabeth Murray, Mary Murray, Ann Green, Margaret Fitzsimmons Mons, Sister of St. Joseph; Agnes Wakefield, May Smiths, James Lawson, chief officer; Charles William McEwin, second officer; John Dykes, second engineer; Anna Saul, stewardess; Martin Alfred, boatswain; James Namshire, second cook; C. H. Christie, J. Bruhu, C. Landginst, J. Eckel, J. Anderson and G. Attendon, seamen. The number of the ship's complement is not stated. The survivors state that the best of order was maintained throughout the disaster, that all the women and children were first cared for, that only one woman remained on the steamer, and that of her own free will, as she would not leave her invalid husband and child. Several passengers were afraid to trust the boats, and some preferred to wait for the captain's boat, which was never launched, as the Captain and all that remained on board went down. A number of minor casualties happened during the hurricane, in which Dan Enong was lost. The storm was the most severe ever known on the coast. The steamer City of Melbourne, from Sydney to Melbourne, was forced to return to port, badly damaged in the upper works. She had on board a number of horses, valued at from $50,000 to $60,000, which were killed during the gale.

WASHINGTON TOPICS.

Commander of the Marine Corps.

Brigadier General Jacob Zielin, Commander of the Marine Corps, has been placed on the retired list, and Lieutenant Colonel Charles G. McCawley has been appointed commandant of the corps, with the rank of Brigadier General, the change to take effect on November 1st.

Sitting Bull Out of Ammunition.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has received a letter from Indian Agent Mitchell, dated Fort Peck, Montana, September 25, conveying the intelligence that Sitting Bull asks permission for his warriors to come into that agency to trade for ammunition. The letter says Little Buck Elk, an Uncpapa, and the chief soldiers of his band, arrived on the evening of the 23d instant, six nights out from Sitting Bull's camp, bearing the application of Sitting Bull.

The Chinese Question.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 18.—The Congressional commission to investigate the Chinese question begins its sittings to-day. In consequence, unusual activity prevails among the anti-Coolie organizations, with a view of presenting the question to the commission in the most effective manner.

Two Feet of Snow.

ST. JOHNS, N. B., October 18.—The Quebec train yesterday arrived six hours and a half late, being detained by a snow storm in the North, where two feet of snow covered the track in some places.

Woman Suffrage.

PHILADELPHIA, October 18.—The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association was begun this morning at St. George's Hall, Miss Mary Green occupying the chair.

Death of Judge Titus.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 18.—A dispatch from Tucson reports the death of Hon. Jno. Titus, ex-Chief Justice of Arizona, a native of Philadelphia.

SEVENTH WARD RALLY.

Grand Torchlight Procession — One Thousand Men in Line.

There was a grand rally of the Republicans of the Seventh ward, Allegheny, last evening, and one of the most spirited ward meetings of the campaign was held on East street at the residence of George Beilstein, Esq., one of the most public spirited citizens and enthusiastic Republicans of the county. Mr. Beilstein had his magnificent residence brilliantly illuminated and most tastefully decorated. Before the meeting was organized a grand torchlight procession under the marshalship of J. F. Beilstein, traversed a portion of the ward. It was composed of the following clubs:

Seventh Ward Engineer Corps, Captain Adam Stark; Seventh Ward Third District Club, Captain John Lawrence; Third Ward Lower Precinct Club, Captain Wm. Paul, Jr.; Third Ward Upper Precinct Club, Captain Henry Zeringer; Eighth Ward Club, Captain R. R. Reno; Boys in Blue, Captain David Nichol.

The procession arrived at the place of meeting about nine o'clock and formed in close column in front of Mr. Beilstein's residence, the speakers and officers of the meeting occupying the veranda, which was tastefully decorated with Chinese lanterns, flags, &c. The meeting was called to order by W. H. Graham, Esq., and organized by the election of the following officers:

President—John A. Myler, Esq.

Mr. Myler, after thanking his fellow Republicans for selecting him to preside over so large an assemblage, briefly discussed the important issues which are agitating the public mind. In consequence of physical weakness the speaker was unable to make a lengthy address, but he said he felt like doing his best, for he believed every man ought to raise his voice against the damnable fraud which the Democratic leaders were attempting to perpetrate. After descanting on the St. Louis platform and the candidates, showing by the record that the latter were attempting to get into power by false pretenses, Mr. Myler turned his attention to the Democratic candidates for Congress in this county, Hopkins and Cochran, who, he said, were attempting to make the business men of these districts believe that they had done much to promote their interests. What had they done? With great flourish of trumpets they had concocted a bill which they said would put a stop to freight discriminations by railroad companies; the bill was referred in the usual way to a committee, and that was the last that was ever heard of it. The friends of Hopkins and Cochran go about telling people that their candidates have great influence in Congress, and that they can do wonderful things for the promotion of our prosperity. The fate of that discrimination bill shows how much influence these gentlemen have. They could not get the bill out of the hands of the locofoco committee, and it was quite probable it would remain there till the end of time. After advising the people to vote the whole Republican ticket, a sentiment that was received with great applause, this speaker introduced Colonel J. S. Haymaker, who held the assemblage for nearly an hour with a speech of great force and eloquence. Mr. John Megraw followed with a rattling speech, which was loudly cheered.

The meeting then adjourned and the clubs fell into line and marched homeward.

THE
POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY,
(Established May, 1872.)
Conducted by Prof. E. L. YOUMANS.

THE POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY for November contains the first part of Prof. Morse's address, on "What American Zoologists have done for Evolution." It is a valuable original contribution to the history of American science, and shows that we had "Darwinists" here before Darwin. "The Early History of Fire," by Prof. Joly, (illustrated), is a curious study of the arts of producing fire made use of by primitive peoples. "Physical Science in English Schools" deals with several of its impediments, and contains useful suggestions to educators in this country. Dr. Bastian concludes his illustrated discussion of the "Nature of the Invertebrate Brain," an instructive chapter in nervous physiology. In "Prenatal and Infantile Culture" Dr. Seguin treats a most important subject in an original manner, and reports upon the appliances for infant education exhibited at the Vienna World's Fair. "The Three Hypotheses of the History of Nature," Prof. Huxley's first lecture in New York, carefully revised by himself, appears in the present number. Prof. M. A. F. Prestel puts forth some new views concerning the "Moon's Influence on the Weather." The "Difficulties of Development as Applied to Man," by Alfred Russell Wallace, is a brilliant statement of the obstacles in the way of one application of evolutionary doctrines. Principal Dawson discusses with his usual ability "The So-Called Conflict of Science and Religion;" and "Is the Development Hypothesis Sufficient?" by Dr. McCosh, contains a review of Huxley's lectures and a liberal treatment of the subject. In "Astronomy in America," by Mr. Proctor, the English astronomer gives the history of our progress in that science during the last half century. The number closes with a biographical sketch of Dr. Neil Arnott, and contains, also its portrait.

KING, REED & CO.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1876

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 48f.

BONDS at Frankfort, new 5s, 102½.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 111¼@111½.

WHOEVER has a yearning desire to be taxed to pay rebel war claims, should vote for SAMUEL J. TILDEN.

THE election in Louisiana occurs on the first Monday in November. The electoral ticket will be selected at that time.

GEORGE W. WRIGHT, of Mercer, has received the nomination for State Senator in that district. The nomination is a good one.

THE SOLID NORTH and patriots in all sections demand that we shall have free speech, free ballots and free schools. The day for the shot-gun and bloodhound and slave-driver's whip has passed.

WHOEVER thinks loyalty ought to be made odious, and a premium put on treason, should vote for TILDEN, which means to pay the rebels for stirring up strife and endeavoring to destroy the nation which they now long to "run."

THE Democrats, discovering that their solid majority of 80,000 in Georgia was a trifle too much, have considerably reduced it to 39,737. Says the Richmond Dispatch: "This is quite sufficient. It is better to have the smaller amount for its national effect."

THE contributions for the sufferers by the Zug mill explosion are coming in rapidly, and will aggregate a considerable sum. The spirit of humanity should keep the contributions up, until the sufferers from the fire are made as comfortable as circumstances will permit.

IF the fathers and brothers of our soldiers who fell in defense of the Union are anxious that rebels, who caused the slaughter of the departed loved ones, shall take possessions of the Government, while loyal people take a back seat, let them vote for SAMUEL J. TILDEN.

A "SOLID SOUTH" for TILDEN means that a promise has been given that this Government, for the next four years, in the event of his election, shall be controlled in the interest of the Southern chivalry, who caused the late war, with its terrible slaughter, and the loss of the millions of money which make up our entire national debt.

THE war reports excited a very exciting influence on Wall street yesterday. Gold advanced more than three per cent., and stocks were generally very much excited. The demand for United States bonds in Europe, in place of other securities also advanced the price of bonds considerably. The effect on the breadstuff market will probably be to advance the price of grain.

THE Republicans in Indiana are not at all despondent that the Democracy carried the popular,—or repeater,—majority in October, and are pressing forward to victory in November. They held a meeting in Indianapolis on Saturday night, at which General HARRISON was accorded a noble reception. They are confident they will carry the State for HAYES and WHEELER.

DOES anybody forget the smiling countenances of Southern sympathizers in those days of gloom and strife, when they passed around the word, in a sneaking way, that the noble Union army had met with a reverse? If any have forgotten it, the same smile and sychophantic joy may now be seen lighting up the countenances of those who shout for the Solid South and SAMUEL J. TILDEN.

TWEED is evidently a source of great discomfort to the TILDEN bureau. The prepared editorials, sent out to the Democratic press, still bitterly declaim against the Government for arresting him, and particularly because, "since the St. Louis Convention, it undertook the enterprise of his recapture." The administration, we are further informed, bargained with Spain, "behind TILDEN'S back, for the surrender of TWEED without treaty." This is, no doubt, very bad, but must be endured.

IT is usually thought that Mr. BLAINE is as well posted as any person as to the probabilities of the electoral vote. He sets down, as absolutely sure for HAYES, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Colorado, Nevada, New Hampshire, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont and Wisconsin. These give 157 electoral votes, leaving 28 to elect. If the South be admitted as solid for the Democracy, there will remain New York, Indiana, New Jersey, Oregon, Connecticut and California to make up this number. They cast 74 votes That we will carry more than 28 of them we do not doubt, while it is now evident that the South is not to be left to the tender mercies of the shot gun gentry.

THE practical seizure, by England, of the Transvaal Republic, and annexation of its territory, show that she is not dead to territorial aspirations, and that she wishes to broaden her colonial possessions, although adopting our American plan of annexation in doing it. The Boers, who controled the country, managed to get into a war with the three great Kaffir tribes, whose territory lay between the Transvaal Republic and the sea, and were badly beaten. This, and the inclination of the natives to carry their war into the British possessions, resulted in the intervention of the English. Being thus compelled to accept a war not of their own making, the English are disposed to repay themselves by the prompt enforcement of their claims on the indiscreet Republic.

THE delay of the Nation Trust Stockholders to come up to their compromise engagements, will have the effect to greatly weaken their case in the estimate of the general public. It will prove not merely inability, but something worse. We have advocated clemency on what seemed to us the very proper grounds, that the stockholders, in the main, were entirely innocent, as to any wrong done the city. Also, that they were citizens, and entitled to consideration. They made their offer, and it was accepted. The city generously, but properly, as we think, forgave a part of the debt in virtue of the assurance that the amount to be paid should be forthcoming. We hope, for the sake of all concerned, there will be no unnecessary delay in making payment.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

The President has issued his proclamation, ordering the rifle clubs and other unlawful organizations in South Carolina to disperse, and the Secretary of War supplements it with a letter of instructions, directing General SHERMAN to place the necessary force at the disposal of General RUGER to maintain order and security in that State. The Democratic press will, of course, raise a howl over this. That its merits may be clearly understood, we recapitulate the facts bearing on the case. Since the election of Governor CHAMBERLAIN, until in May or June last, when the Democratic party set up the theory that a "Solid South" was essential to their success, the most rabid Democratic papers agreed that the administration of Government in South Carolina was the best possible. The Governor carried economy and reform into every department of the Government, selected men for office without respect to their politics, the larger share falling to Democrats, and prevented, even by the arbitrary exercise of power, corrupt Republicans from securing the offices to which they were elected—as in the case of MOSES for Judge. So general and complete was the satisfaction, that prominent Democrats, and all their papers, favored the re-election of Governor CHAMBERLAIN. The State was at peace, and no conflict between the races was considered at all possible. The blacks were quiet and contented, and the whites satisfied. Such was the condition of affairs in May or June last. These are facts that cannot be denied.

About that time the policy of the Democracy for the Presidential campaign was determined. It is known that WADE HAMPTON was in the councils which shaped the purposes of the Democratic party. At once he became the candidate for Governor of South Carolina on the Democratic ticket, and simultaneously with this announcement the Democratic press began to criticise and carp at Governor CHAMBERLAIN and the "carpet bag" Republicans. This soon grew into open and violent abuse—coarse, vicious and brutal. At some of the earliest meetings held by the Republicans, HAMPTON himself, attended by large bands of armed horsemen, came and forcibly seized the platform and took part of the time for abusive, jeering discussion. HAMPTON'S later promises of equal rights are in strong contrast with the brutal course he has pursued. In August came the Hamburg massacre, that produced such excitement through the country. When the flimsiness of the excuse for that massacre is considered and the concurrence of time and event are thought of, it will be seen that this massacre was simply part of a system of political terrorism that had been deliberately resolved upon. The reasoning was that Georgia and Mississippi had been thus secured, and South Carolina could be. Further, that a solid South is essential to TILDEN'S election, and nothing but terrorism can give South Carolina to the Democracy. The Ellerton affair followed, and single murders, the ostentatious organization of rifle clubs and the use of general terrorism became common. Finally State arms were boldly seized, and the system of force became more open and its plans more definite and decided. It is against this attempt to overthrow regular government, to destroy the freedom of the franchise, which constitutes the essential principle in a Republican form of government, that the National Administration is called upon to aid. It is clearly its duty to do as it has done; and enough is known of the exact spirit and purpose of WADE HAMPTON and his coadjutors for the government to act with directness and purpose this time.

THE WAR CLOUD.

Europe appears to be drifting irresistibly toward war. The failure to agree over the armistice is the present point of difficulty, but back of this are heavier interests and larger stakes. Russia, Austria, and Germany are playing for territory and power, with Russia as the most interested, and possibly most astute party. The facts are as follows: Russia has evidently combined, in her own interest, both Austria and Germany, and is shaping events so as to direct her troops toward Constantinople. It is practically true, that Russia and Turkey are at war. But in doing this, she has managed to mollify, if not to unite in interest with herself, both Austria and Germany. To the former, she proposes to simply occupy Servia, Roumania and Bulgaria, leaving to Austria, Bosnia and Herzegovina. This, in itself is fair, and Austria is disposed to so regard it. Thus she has no motive, if the game is carried no farther, to disturb the programme. Germany has a grateful remembrance that in her Austrian and French wars, Russia did not disturb her; and hence is not disposed to interfere in any little plans Russia may have. She well knows that if the war assumes large proportions, and Austria becomes greedy, she can readily grasp enough and incorporate it with the German Empire to keep the balance of affairs about right. France has no possible interest in this war, the great business of her Statesmen being to recuperate her strength, and not to waste it on wars that only represent an ambition or an idea. Italy still pursues her old policy of not antagonizing the stronger powers. Thus England is left to herself, and she has limited her positive declarations to the idea that she will not permit Russia to occupy Constantinople. Yet even if this were done by Russia she will be able to seize upon Egypt, and thus protect her interest.

The war, if begun, may not be carried to the limit of seizing Constantinople. Russian policy is cautious and conservative, as well as bold. The idea of securing Constantinople has lived in the Russian brain from the establishment of the Romanoff dynasty. Yet in doing it, they will not seek to violently shock the sentiment of the world. The present phase of the question is that of relieving the Sclave population from Turkish rule. The trouble is, that a portion of the Sclaves are under Austrian control, although Russia is recognized as their natural friend and protector. This fact and the further circumstance that the Sclaves have national aspirations compel Russia to the course she is pursuing. So largely are her people involved in the movement, and so numerous are they, that the possible breaking up of Russian power was contained in the Servian war. It was not policy for Russia to even allow this idea to obtain ascendancy, and hence she has been drawn into this contest. To sympathize with, and aid the aspirations of the Sclaves to be at least free from Turkish rule, was a necessity in Russian policy. This much is clear. How far Russia will go, the benefits of that policy being gained to give effect to her own aspirations after Constantinople, remains to be seen. Many circumstances are fortuitous, and yet the time does not seem to be altogether rife for it. Thus far, in directing and controlling European diplomacy, so as to free her policy from unnecessary difficulties, Russia has had splendid success. But beyond this, she has jealous England, and may take time to manage her.

—Since writing the above it has been announced that Russia has at last definitely entered on a war policy,—and Austria and Germany are reported in harmony with her. This ends all speculation, and now the issues at stake must be decided by the sword.

THE CONFEDERATE GRAB.

The necessity for specific and well sustained evidence as to the purposes of the Democracy, is illustrated by letters of inquiry, received from our country readers, as to whether it is really true that certain bills are pending in Congress, providing for the appropriation of moneys to pay rebel claims. The amount is so great and the impudence and perfidy of the movement so stupendous, that its very vastness creates a measure of disbelief. Let us assure our readers that all we have said on this subject is literally true, but that we have not been able to develop the full truth, as to Democratic and Confederate perfidy,—it being past belief. The Congressional records of the last session show that Southern Democratic members introduced twenty-five general bills, of which the following are fair examples:

H. R. No. 3,430, by the Hon. E. J. Ellis, of Louisiana: Appropriates $4,202,000 to repair and rebuild the levees on the Mississippi river.

H. R. No. 1,693, the Hon. R. L. Gibson, of Louisiana: For rebuilding levees, etc., on the Mississippi river, $5,250,000.

H. R. No. 645, by the Hon. Benjamin Wilson, of West Virginia: To indemnify West Virginia for damage to roads and bridges in Marion county by the Union armies, $200,000.

H. R. No. 232, by the Hon. PHILIP COOK, of Georgia: Proposes to refund to claimants $68,072,000, collected as the internal revenue tax on cotton in 1863, and subsequently.

H. R. No. 22, by the Hon. J. J. DAVIS, of North Carolina: Repealing section 3,480 Revised Statutes, which forbids the payment of certain disloyal claimants, and appropriating $500,000 for payment of such claims.

H. R. No. 2,233, by the Hon. J. W. THROCKMORTON, of Texas: Appropriating $350,000 for relief of disloyal mail contractors in the Southern States.

These we speak of as general bills, being of an apparently public nature. Yet several of them are so drawn as to include far more than what appears on their face. For example, that for losses is generalized so that all claims made under it are to be included. Thus the most accurate estimate that can be made embraces the following items:

Rebuilding levees on Mississippi river, $5,250,000; rebuilding bridges in West Virginia, $200,000; refund of cotton tax, $68,072,000; supplies used or destroyed, $1,205,163,000; use and occupation of property, $1,205,163,000; return of proceeds of captured property, $9,000,000; refund and remission of direct tax, $5,153,886; disloyal mail contractors, $350,000; disloyal claimants under repeal of Section 3,480, Revised Statutes, $500,000. Total $2,498,851,886. In addition to the above, there is a vast number of private bills, for the relief of, chiefly, Southern claimants, which aggregate nearly $5,000,000 additional The exact division into States as follows: Virginia, 50 bills, $530,307; West Virginia, 21 bills, $303,087; North Carolina, 12 bills, $124,691; Tennessee, 108 bills, $1,144,169; Kentucky, 21 bills, $255,374; Georgia, 15 bills, $622,075; Mississippi, 13 bills, $306,176; Louisiana, 14 bills, $232,556; Texas, 13 bills, $205,980; Arkansas, 14 bills, $151,756, Alabama, 2 bills, $143,262; New York, 5 bills, $61,907; Massachusetts, 3 bills, $3[illegible],135; New Jersey, 2 bills, $18,800; Pennsylvania, 1 bill, $17,705; Ohio, 3 bills, $40,117; Illinois, 2 bills, $4,640; Missouri, 46 bills, $474,739. Total, $4,770,500.

These are, so far as ascertained, the items, and their exact purport can be seen at a glance. It shows that the rebels simply propose to take out of the National Treasury their losses on account of the rebellion. But the records prove more than this. Mr. BLAINE has mentioned the details of their attempt to force the repeal of all laws designed to prevent the perpetration of election frauds. More stubborn effort was expended by the Democracy, last session, to force the repeal of the law, under which the United States Judges can appoint Supervisors of Elections, where the perpetration of fraud is feared, than on any other one measure. They refused to pass the Sundry Appropriation bill, which provides for such non-partisan purposes as lighthouses, and benevolences, unless there was allowed in it a clause repealing the Supervisor law,—which had not the slightest relation to that measure. For over two months, they stubbornly held to their determination, till they learned the Senate would never yield that point. Why? Let the repeating and ballot box stuffing in Ohio and Indiana answer. The intention was to elect TILDEN by fraud. There is no doubt as to the facts we have stated, and can be none as to the conclusions drawn. The so-called party of Reform, is the party of fraud. The conclusion we urge is, do not vote for a Democratic member of Congress, nor for any position whatever.

POLITICAL NOTES.

CINCINNATI polled 7,000 more votes this year than last. Here's someth ing for the Democracy to explain.

IT IS usually after a fight at a Democratic primary that the phrenologist steps in and achieves his greatest triumphs.

THE Republican who addresses an audience and makes no mention of the Southern claims, leaves nine-tenths of his work undone. Pass the word to this effect all along the line.

THE Massachusetts Democratic State Committee give notice that the Irish vote must and shall be secured, and Herculean efforts are making to induce Charles Francis Adams to wear a green necktie.

SOME of the guards at Libby Prison during the late unpleasantness are among the Southern claimants before Congress. They believe in a Libby-ral distribution of Government funds, and are clamorous for Tilden and Reform.

CONGRESS adopted no joint rules, it seems, at the last session, and the right, which the Democratic House would otherwise have had to reject the electoral vote of any State by persistent objection, is lost. Both the rule and its omission work both ways and neither party can complain.

THREE weeks of the campaign are still left. We trust the time will be used to good advantage by the Republicans in the work of organization. Every township in the State should have its clubs and its societies, not only for processions and parades, but for work at the polls on the 7th of November.

"THAT shows how I shall vote," said a Union ex-soldier, as he pointed to his armless shoulder, at an Illinois Republican meeting the other night; "against the men who shot that off." "Yes, yes," cried the audience. "And that is all the 'stump' speech I can make you," said the veteran, as he climbed down from the stand.

THE Republican artillery is rattling along the whole line, while the Democrats have not yet sufficiently recovered from their surprise at finding themselves still alive to begin work again. The next three weeks will be about as lively ones as this country has seen for a long time, and the fight won't be a "still hunt," either.

THE financial question lies in a nutshell. It is as simple as the question of the maintenance of business credit by a merchant. The point at issue is, will the Government redeem its promises. There is no doubt of its ability to do so by processes that involve no shock to business and no undue strain on the resources of the country. But it can no more be done by the Democratic party, whose masses are recklessly bent on the opposite course, than the business obligations of a house could be met by a firm, the majority of whose members were determined to cheat their creditors.

IT will be said that thousands of substantial business men who are Democrats, but distrusted the financial results of the success of that party, voted the Republican ticket in 1872. That is true, and they will do the same thing again, having infinitely better reason to distrust their party, and to fear its success. Many are known. They say frankly that the repeal of the Resumption act means such uncertainty, and such disaster to business, that they dare not vote for a party pledged to that step. They say, moreover, that Mr. Tilden, who has been unable to curb his party in this reckless and shameful demand, will not be able to control it when war claims by the thousand millions come forward to bankrupt the Treasury. Business needs security. To permit a Democratic success, just when there is a beginning of improvement, would be utter folly.

The Old Scales.

The owner of a cotton farm, who was sadly in need of pickers, approached an old darkey on the public square yesterday and the following dialogue ensued:

"Come Ned, you picked cotton for me last year, and I want you again."

"I dunno, massa."

"Come along and get in the wagon, I've good cotton, and I'll give you six bits a hundred.

"Well, it jes' depends on one thing."

"What's that?"

"Is you got dat same ole par scales?"

"No, a brand new pair."

"Well, dat bein' de case, I'll go wid you."

HOW "VINES" ARE TRAINED.

The Modern Method of Bringing Them Up.

It is a poor rule that does not work both ways, says the New Century for Woman. When a father gives his son a trade or a profession we are very certain that he is guided by no spirit of animosity toward the opposite sex, with no bravado or defiance to them. It is generally considered, indeed, by thoughtful people, to make the young man rather more attractive to the farmer's daughter or city girl, who is matrimonially disposed to regard him with eyes of favor. But when a wise mother, forseeing that the exigencies of even married life occasionally force upon a woman the duty of self support, and recognizing that there is in America no assurance that the heiress to thousands may not be in better need before she dies—when such a mother insists that her daughter shall be taught the means of livelihood, it is a little comical to hear this roundly stated as a "belligerent attitude toward the world, especially the other sex." There are two paths open to the modern school girl; in one or the other direction, she will infallibly look. One way lies toward the butterflies, with the vapid and petty ambitions of fashionable dissipation. The school girl whose outlook is in this direction will necessarily talk of the cotilion, the fall style of hat, whether the new girl is sufficiently chic to be admitted to her set. Her lessons are so much impedimenta to be dropped at the grand entrance to society, towards which she looks with all the bright visions of her sixteen years. In dress she is already a miniature fine lady, in aspiration she sees a brilliant marriage with a vista of society triumphs—perhaps more flirtations—afterwards. She discusses already with the gravity of a dowager, the pecuniary prospects of this or that man, who is set down as very good to flirt with, but a wretched parti. The bloom isn't on the rye any more, with this abnormal creature; a course of Ouida and the sensational drama has carried her sixteen years to the standpoint and the vision of the experienced woman. The mother sees this headlong course, but is powerless to stay it. She had hoped that her daughter would grow up after her own pattern, blooming quietly in the paternal parlor, blooming in all the domestic virtues of pudding-making and fine darning, until the hand of the suitor comes to gather her for his own. But even here her daughter forestalls her. She can make omelette souffle and do the point lace stitch which are the modern correlatives of the darning and the pudding of old; she can order a dinner and superintend the fall moving to town; for the modern girl has faculty and does not grow up in blind ignorance of household workings. The house-keeping recipe will not meet this case, it is evident. Modern life is too full and varied, and the girl might as well be sent to the loom as her great grandmother was, to weave her own linsey woolsey gown, as to relegate her to the preparation of pickles and preserves. What the school girl really needs is the objective occupation, instead of the subjective one. We expect our boys to marry, yet we give them something else to think about in the training for future work. If they were to be left to sentimental visions between the ages of sixteen and twenty, we should have precisely the same results that call forth the Jeremiads in the case of the girls. Instead of the healthful ambitions of the young engineer or chemist or lawyer, we should have the same nonsense and wickedness that is already, with the school-girl, the little rift within the lute that will spoil all the music by and by. That there is anything belligerent to society in that wise education of our girls that gives them an object in life, occupation for their bright, young activity, and special training for their several talents, is utter nonsense. The girl who is educated to self-support, even in her father's luxurious home, is simply taught to stand on her feet, that is all. There is no more pathetic spectacle than the vine, torn from its supports and tossed by autumnal storms, and they are wise parents who foresee the storms. Even if it should be fair weather all through, why should the talent of the girl any more than that of the boy be suffered to die out for want of use. It by no means eliminates sentiment, nor the subtle attractions between man and woman, that the girl has other occupation than day-dreams over her needlework, and the sentiment will probably be all the stronger and clearer for not being perpetually in view. Safety for the school-girl lies precisely in this healthful recognition that all young human beings need an object for ambition, occupation for idle thought, a business for idle hours.

Savings Banks.

The savings bank system of the world is the subject of an interesting report by the Italian Bureau of Statistics to the Statistical Congress at Buda-Pesth. The savings bank is modern. The first institution of the kind was opened at Berne, in Switzerland, in 1787. The first in the United States was founded in Philadelphia in 1818. In 1872 there were in Europe 9,000 savings banks, more than half of them in Great Britain, and holding a quarter of the total deposits of $1,100,000,000. Three years later, in the United States, there were less than 700 savings banks, with $850,000,000 of deposits. The United States has the heaviest amount of savings deposits; England follows, and Austria with Hungary comes next. Denmark has the largest per capita average of savings,—about $28 for each inhabitant. The United States and Switzerland have $22 each; England, Germany, and Austria have $10 for every inhabitant; and Italy $5. Holland puts little faith in savings banks, and in Russia proper there were in 1872 less than $4,000,000 of savings deposits. The only European institution that is as large as the largest American banks is the Vienna Bank, which has $40,000,000 of deposits. The deposits of the Caisse d'Epargne at Paris declined from $14,000,000 in 1840 to $8,000,000 in 1875. The Berlin Bank—a monopoly—had at the close of 1874 only $4,000,000 of deposits. In England and in France the deposits are invested in Government securities; in other countries bonds and mortgages are favorite investments; but in Norway three-quarters of the savings deposits are in commercial paper.

What They Rejoice Over.

"I say," said a business man to a Hawkeye reporter yesterday, "what is it the Democrats are going to have a jollification meeting about to-night at Union Hall?"

"Why, they elected eight Congressmen in Indiana two years ago, and now they elect but five. I suppose they rejoice to think they have saved the five!"

"Sho! but isn't there any other reason than that?"

"Well, um, yes," said the reporter, "two years ago they had 17,262 majority, and now they have perhaps 1,000 or 2,000 majority. I suppose they rejoice to think the Republicans did not gain over 15,000 or 16,000 votes."

"Nonsense," said the business man, "there's is nothing in that for Democratic rejoicing. Isn't there really, now, something else to justify a jollification meeting to-night?"

"Well-er-yes, I guess so, there's Ohio. Gov. Hayes carried it last year by 5,544 majority. The Republicans carry it this year by 8,060, and gain five or six Congressmen. I suppose the Democrats rejoice that they didn't lose any more Congressmen and that the Republican gains were no larger."

"Oh, hang your foolishness. There must be some reason or other for the Democratic rejoicing. I'd give a dollar to know what it is."

"Now you talk" said the impecunious reporter. "Gimme the dollar," and leaning over, he whispered in the inquirer's ear, "They are rejoicing because Tweed has got back!"

But the reporter didn't get the dollar, and the conundrum, "What do the Democrats find to rejoice over?" still goes unanswered.

Sing Sing Prison Choir.

I suppose this choir is an unequalled one in this or any other country, from its composition, and having some curiosity to know the nature of the offences committed by its members, and which were the cause of their sentences, I made it my business to ascertain the nature of their crimes, and I give them as they were given to me, as follows:

THE CONVICT CHOIR.

De Mirski, organist	Grand larceny.
McKeon, first violin	Murdered his wife.
Crozier, first tenor	Murdered his wife.
Burdick, double bass viol	Killed a negro.
Hinman, second tenor	Burglary and rape.
Hall, basso	Burglary.
King, basso	Forgery.
Darling, basso	Forgery.
White, soprano	Burglary.
Bishop, soprano	Forgery.
The Professor, alto	Forgery and false pretence.

Servian Yankee Doodle.

A patriotic Servian has translated "Yankee Doodle" into his native tongue, and the air is so popular that it bids fair to become the national anthem of that struggling race. It runs as follows:

Yenghistovitch Dhocdaloviskia camerrowsk tetowwnepki
Ridingelensk onevitch poneolowdosk:
Stuckorelskeno theatheromouk inter his hatovitch,
Adensk colladarovask macharonitovenski.

The rest is awful.

F. H. EATON & CO.
Are now prepared to show the largest line of Ladies and Children's Suits and Cloaks ever opened in this city, and at prices in accordance with the wants of the times.
During the period of extreme depression in prices of woolen goods in New York they made contracts for several hundred Rough Cloth Coats, which they now offer at as low prices at retail as it is possible to buy the same goods elsewhere in the United States.
Our lines of Suits were never so extensive and inviting, and comprise all the favorite shades and fabrics, made in the latest styles.
In Basket, Beaver and Chinchilla Cloths we have all the new styles of Garments, in size to suit children from 2 years to the largest sized woman.
Stylish Polonaise, Basque and Overskirts in great variety.
We are prepared to make to order in our work rooms Silk and Cashmere Suits, either from our own goods or those brought to us by customers, at short notice.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, October 19, 1876.

The comparative newness of business at the banks, and its moderate quantity, lead to the conclusion that politics are affecting the volume of trade, and the scope of financial transactions. These have been, thus far, tending upward, indicative of better times. But at the present there is an apparent waiting, none seeking to press business, because of the excitement, and, as some think, uncertainty of elections. The strength and drift of this feeling is shown by the circumstance that a prominent and prudent manufacturer, not a partisan by any means, stated recently that with Democratic triumph he would close down his works at once, and wait till he saw some hope for the country. Trade in mercantile circles is fair—not quite up to the volume of business transacted during the previous week or two. Bankers are well supplied with loanable funds, and the regular customers of the banks experience no difficulty in obtaining all the accommodations they desire, when able to offer acceptable security. Considerable second-rate paper is forced to the street, where brokers are enabled to obtain a slight advance in interest. Collections are reported rather slow, and city deposits are only fair.

The declaration of war yesterday, by Russia, had the effect to send up gold nearly four per cent., and to advance the price of United States bonds over one per cent. The effect on railway shares in Wall street is such as to indicate that railroad stocks will go up to pretty fair figures during the excitement. The effect of the war naturally will be to advance the price of American breadstuffs, as well as to increase the demand for American wheat.

THE "BALANCE" IN OUR FAVOR.

Although the favorable rates of exchange have induced the commencement of a return of gold from abroad, it must not be inferred that the exports have ceased. On the contrary, the official statement of the commerce of the republic for the first eight months of the year shows an export of over forty millions in specie and bullion. Notwithstanding that the balance of trade is in our favor, and has been for a year past, the export of specie and bullion has gone on just the same. This is owing to our large foreign debt, on which the interest must be paid in gold, and to other accounts caused by absenteeism, the foreign monopoly of the ocean carrying trade, etc. As these accounts are estimated to foot up annually $140,000,000, while the favorable balance of trade has not yet reached half that sum, we must still go on paying out gold and silver. The current flows both ways. Still the rapid increase of the exports, and the equally rapid decline of foreign imports, must after a time tell upon the solution of the problem, and so bring back either the debt or the gold. The Boston Advertiser declares that we have really reduced the aggregate of our foreign indebtedness in the last three years, and in a larger proportion our interest obligations, as considerable amounts of our national bonds have been returned for sale here; the interest on those exchanged has been reduced; individual and corporation debts have been paid, and failure and bankruptcy have wiped off many debts in a more humiliating fashion.

THE PHILADELPHIA MONEY MARKET.

The week opened Tuesday with very quiet markets in the produce trade, while other branches did not exhibit that marked activity which has been the predominant feature for the past few weeks. The movement in breadstuffs opened moderately, with indications of an improvement in the export demand in the near future, and for all articles that enter into daily consumption there is a constant demand at firm, and in some instances, advancing prices. The shortening of credits and the curtailment of stocks that has been going on for many months past give assurances of a continuance of this demand, and though no great increase of activity may be looked for just at present, a fair healthy trade on a sound basis of values is more than likely to continue throughout the season. The financial situation presented the same unchanging front that has characterized it during the entire summer. The banks continue to increase the amount of their loanable funds, (the statement of Tuesday showing remarkable strength) notwithstanding the offerings of commercial paper seem larger than formerly. Choice notes and acceptances are sought for in banking circles.—Philadelphia North American.

THE STOCK MARKETS.

Few people have any adequate idea of the nominal value of the stocks and shares quoted by the boards of stock brokers in the several large cities of the world. In this city, in which the stock business is light compared with that done at New York and California, it is still very large, while at London it is probably more than at all the cities in this country combined. We cannot at present form any just estimate of the amount of stock operations in all of the United States, but have an estimate of the business of the London Stock Exchange, two years ago, which then put it about $22,750,000,000, and at the present time no doubt exceeds that amount. There is also well on toward $250,000,000 more, not on its list, comprising the capital of small joint-stock enterprises, mines of all kinds, country banks, &c., which London and provincial stock brokers traffic in and make profit by.

NEW YORK, October 18, 1876.

Money was excited at 2@7, closing at 3@4; prime mercantile paper 4@6. The customs receipts were $225,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $19,000. The clearings were $58,000,000. Sterling was strong at 484@486. The effect of European advices on the Wall street markets was very marked, and there was a strong rise in gold, exchange and stocks. In the Gold Room the excitement was intense early in the day, and an unusually large business was done at a rapid advance in premium. The opening sale was 110½, and under an active demand to cover short contracts the price rose to 113¼, while at one time on a general flurry as high as 113½ was bid without sale. Subsequently the excitement subsided somewhat, and there was a reaction to 111, followed by a recovery to 111¼, with the latest sales at 111¼@111½. Cash gold was scarcer, and loaned flat to 1-16 per cent. per diem for use. There were some large transactions at from 113 to 113¼, the Germans being heavy buyers. Governments were strong and higher, in sympathy with gold. Railroad bonds were firm, especially for St. Paul and Northwestern consolidated.

The stock market was active and buoyant, with great excitement at different periods to-day. The advance in leading shares was 1 to 13½ per cent., with the greatest rise in coal stocks. The immediate cause of the advance in the general list, especially in trunk line shares, was the prospect of war in Europe, which would bring with it a very active demand for breadstuffs, hog and beef products, and other articles that contribute largely to the traffic of the roads, which is already heavy in consequence of the active movement of grain from the West to the seaboard. Again to-day it was asserted the railroad war was in process of settlement, and would soon be adjusted, which also had its influence. The sharp rise in coal stocks was brought about by a rumor that another combination was about to be formed, which frightened the Bears and caused a general rush to cover short contracts. The greatest advance was in Delaware & Hudson Canal, which rose from 69 to 82½, and reacted to 75. Delaware, Lackawanna & Western followed, rising from 73½ to 80¾, and finally reacting to 77¾@78. New Jersey Central advanced from 35½ to 38¼, and afterwards sold down to 36½@36¾. Coal stocks to-day generally commanded 1-16 to 1-4 per cent. for use, but were much easier at the close. In the general list Lake Shore was a feature, advancing from 58½ to 60¼, and closing at 59¾. Michigan Central rose from 46¼ to 48, and closed at 47½. Erie advanced from 10½ to 12¼, with the final sale at 11½. The remainder of the list advanced ½ to 1 per cent., with the the closing sales at about the best figures of the day.

The sharp advance in gold and stocks carried down a number of dealers on the bear side of the markets, and crippled others. The failures officially announced on the Stock Exchange and in the Gold Room were Henry Dale, dealer in gold; John P. McKewan, gold and stocks; S. A. Josephs, gold and stocks; and Hone & Nicholas, coal stocks. The Evening Post says no other prominent failures have been announced, but that others are feared on the part of the bear party is shown by the loan market in the Stock Exchange this afternoon, where unusual discrimination was shown in lending money. For instance, firms deemed beyond doubt were accommodated with money at 4 per cent. At the same moment firms not standing so high had to pay 7 per cent.

The transactions on the Stock Exchange aggregated 270,000 shares, of which 4,000 were Pacific Mail, 17,000 Western Union, 8,000 Northwests, 5,000 Rock Island, 26,000 St. Pauls, 18,000 Erie, 89,000 Lake Shore, 3,500 New York Central, 2,500 Ohios, 2,500 Wabash, 22,000 Michigan Central, 5,000 Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 19,000 New Jersey Central, and 7,000 Delaware & Hudson Canal.

The Evening Post has the following: "The warlike rumors from the East, with the possibility that the European powers may become involved in Turkey's troubles, had a marked effect on the Wall street and merchandise markets this morning, all having been thrown into the greatest excitement. In the Gold Room the scene has been without a parallel for years. Boisterous and excited brokers bid for any amount at almost any price, and purchases which opened at 110 1-8 rapidly carried the price up to 113¼. Yesterday morning gold opened at 109¼, so that in two days the price advanced full 4 per cent. So large an advance in so short a time has not occurred since the great panic of 1873. From 113 1-4 there was a fall to 111 1-4, and the price has remained steady at between 111 and 112. In foreign exchange there was an advance of ½ in rates for sterling bills. In the Stock Exchange United States bonds advanced ¼@1½ percentum, and stocks of all kinds advanced amid excited purchases, the rise ranging from ½ to 6¾ percentum, the war being interpreted to mean greater activity in railroad business and general trade. A prominent grain merchant, when questioned by a reporter of the Post in regard to the probable effect of the European war upon the market for American breadstuffs, replied that definite predictions could be obtained only from a merchant who had been but a short time in business. The older he grew the more ignorant he became concerning the future. Telegraphic dispatches received at the Produce Exchange from Chicago say that the people are crazy over the excitement produced by the sudden rise in wheat in that city. At the close of 'Change yesterday the price of wheat was $1.10, and soon afterwards advanced 3 8. At 11 A. M. to-day the price was $1.13. It then advanced to $1.16 1-2, next declined to $1.14, and at 11:30 was $1.15. The market is feverish and excited on account of the war rumors, and especially of the decline in consols, which opened to-day at 7-16 below yesterday's quotations, and speedily went 5-8 lower. It is asserted that the speculative element is making all the changes. Corn shared the advance only slightly. Cotton went down 1-32."

The Evening Post, speaking of the war prospects in its financial column, says: "Looking over the whole situation, however, it is impossible to come to any other conclusion than that war, even if it is confined to Russia and Turkey, which is hardly among the possibilities, will be all that is needed to thoroughly awaken the dormant industries of this country and give us a degree of profitable activity in every branch of business such as has not been seen for many years. So far as the price of gold is affected by the foreign trade movement, it must be borne in mind that as respects breadstuffs, one of the great sources of supply for wheat will be cut off, a good part of the wheat which supplies the world coming from Russia; that there will be an enormous demand for our breadstuffs and provisions, in fact all food products; that there also will be a great demand for coarse manufactures, and particularly for everything that comes under the head of war supplies; that this demand will directly help the transportation lines and all kinds, and will indirectly stimulate every branch of industry. It must not be forgotten, however, that at least a part of what our exports will gain in this way will be lost on cotton, of which we have enormous crops this year. Whether the domestic consumption of cotton can be increased so as to compensate for whatever reaction there may be in the foreign demand is another question."

It is stated that some cable orders to buy gold this morning were unlimited as to price, and they were quickly executed in the Gold Room without regard to cost. Hence the flurry on the opening of the market.

In the suit of Roebling vs. Wm. Butler Duncan and others, Judge Barrett has granted a stay of orders of arrest pending the argument in the Court of Appeals.

The war news created much excitement at the Produce Exchange to-day. The sales amounted to about 500,000 bushels of wheat, and about 30,000 barrels of flour. The export orders and joint account purchases in the grain and provision market are large, and the rise in gold helps this movement. The threatened trouble is a scarcity of tonnage and consequent rise in freights. The latter already show signs of advancing, especially on steamship engagements.

LONDON, 12:30 P. M., October 18—At this hour the Stock Exchange is greatly excited, and it is almost impossible to give accurate quotations. Russian securities have delined 7, making a fall of nearly 20 within a week. War between Russia and Turkey is considered as already begun, and it is generally believed that other powers will become involved. A commercial and financial crisis in Russia, and a consequent heavy fall in Russian exchange, adds to the confusion.

1 P. M.—The funded loan, the only American stock much dealt in, feels the influence of the prevailing depression, and is now quoted at 105¾@106.

The Globe says a complete panic prevails on the Stock Exchange. The news of Russia's apparent determination to make war upon Turkey has confirmed the fears which for several days have depressed the market, and culminated to-day in an indiscriminate pressure for the sale of all descriptions of stock, not only by speculators stimulating panic fears, but by bona fide holders of securities, especially foreign. There was at the opening a further serious decline in quotations, and it was difficult to obtain prices at which bargains could be effected, the fluctuations being so great and frequent. The changes included a reduction of 5 in Hungarian, 1¼ in Turkish, 2 in Egyptian, 3 in Italian, and less, but a considerable decline, in all stocks.

The amount of bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day was £81,000.

PARIS, October 18.—Rentes, 103f 20c.

FRANKFORT, October 18.—U. S. new 5s, 102⅛.

LONDON, October 18.—Germany proposes to submit to the next Parliament the propriety of largely increasing her silver coinage, on the ground that the present amount in circulation is insufficient.

LONDON, October 18.—During the afternoon stocks rallied slightly, but at the official close were again flat. The market continued to decline to the last moment, and the final quotations at 5 o'clock are about the lowest of the day.

PARIS, October 18—Evening.—The Bourse has been much agitated throughout the day, and also stocks closed at the lowest.

VIENNA, October 18.—An important fall in Government stocks and a sharp rise in the exchange and bullion market have characterized to-day's Bourse.

BERLIN, October 18—Evening.—On the Bourse yesterday Russian securities fell 6, Hungarian 3, and Austrian about 2½. All other international stocks likewise suffered considerably.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

There is a continued fair degree of activity in general business, but the leading markets present no important features deserving of special notice.

APPLES—Quotable at $1a1,50 per bbl in a jobbing way, and dull.

BEANS—Old stock quoted at $1,20a1,25 ℔ bush.

BUTTER—Prime roll is now offering at 25c, whereas a week or ten days ago, it was selling readily at 27a28. The supply continues to accumulate, and dealers generally are anxious to realize.

BROOM CORN—Choice grades of hurl been scarce and in demand at prices ranging from 6¾ to 7, as to quality. Choice green brush that will work up in fair demand at 5¾a6 in round lots; with sales at 6½ in job lots. Choice medium in fair supply and offerings at 5¾ for green, and 5a5½ for red tipped. Covers and insiding selling at prices ranging from 4 to 5 as to quality and color. Crocked, 2½a3½.

CHEESE—Is firm with a steady demand; September make quoted at 13¼a13½ to the wholesale trade.

CIDER—The market continues very dull, with considerable offering; quotable at $3,50a4,50 ℔ bbl, including bbls.

CHESTNUTS—Continue dull; offered freely to-day at $3 per bu.

DRIED FRUIT.—There is some inquiry from the seaboard for new apples, which are wanted for export; would bring 5c ℔ lb; none here. No call whatever for Peaches.

EGGS—Continue scarce, and with a fair demand prices are higher; sales were reported today at 27c.

FLOUR—There is a continued steady demand, and while the market continues firm in tone in sympathy with Wheat, there has been no change in prices here for several days.

Red winters	$6,25a6,75 ℔ bbl.
Spring wheat flours	6,25a6,75 "
Patent process and fancy white wheat	8,00a9,00 "
Rye flour	4,50a5,00 "

GROCERIES—Rio Coffee continues very firm, owing to the smallness of the supply, a fair demand, and favorable advices from Rio to holders. The stock in first hands on Monday at all ports was 11,935 bags, against 116,177 bags same time in 1875. Sugars, both raw and refined continue firm, and the indications are favorable to a higher range of prices. Dan Talmage's Son & Co., of New Orleans, estimate the current rice crop of Louisiana at about 200,000 bbls, or an increase of 10 per cent, or 44,500 acres, in the breadth sown. The quality is good. The yield of 1875-'76 was 180,000 bbls, which was an increase of 70 per cent over the year previous.

GRAIN—There is a steady demand for Wheat, and while the general tone of the market is firmer, in sympathy with advices from Chicago, there has been no change in prices; Penna. and Ohio red, $1,20a1,22; do. amber $1,23a1,25. Both New York and Chicago are reported strong according to our latest advices at this writing. The Oat market is steady and prices are well maintained, notwithstanding the receipts have been quite liberal for a week or more past; quotable at 38a40c, the outside figure for prime white on track. Corn is in light supply and steady, but unchanged; Ear, 56a 8c. on track; Shelled, 58a60c. Rye quotable at 70a72c, and Barley ast $1a1,10.

HAY—Is in rather better demand and the market firmer; selling from country wagons, loose, $12 a16 per ton. Baled, on wharf and track, $12a15 for fair to prime Timothy.

MILL FEED—Bran is scarce and higher; $12a13 per ton; Seconds and Ship Stuffs, $14a16; Middlings and Chopped Feed, $20a22.

ONIONS—In fair demand, but the supply is ample and prices remain unchanged; $1a2,50 ℔ bbl.

OILS—Nothing new in oils, but the market is steady for lard oil, and firm for miners. Extra winter strained lard, $1a1,05; current make No. 1, 78c; No. 2, 60a65. Lewis' extra white miners oil, 61c, yellow, 57c. Linseed a shade firmer. Carbon firm at 23c, to the wholesale trade, and 25 in a jobbing way.

PROVISIONS—There is a continued fair demand but no change in prices. The Chicago Tribune of Tuesday says of that market: "Were quiet and averaged easier, but with little change in prices, except on cash pork, which was weak, under larger offerings and a lessened demand. Hogs were in moderate supply at unchanged prices, which made holders of product unwilling to concede anything to sellers, except as above noted, but there was little inquiry for anything. Home buyers took hold sparingly, and holders of foreign orders had their limits reduced so that they could not operate—there olds on meats were some ⅛c ℔ lb below asking figures. Under these circumstances packers were discouraged and disposed to cease work, except those of them who are filling direct orders ahead—especially as the warmer weather is not favorable to handling, and lower prices for hogs were looked for by some operators."

POULTRY—Live chickens selling by the coop at 40a50c ℔ pair, according to size.

POTATOES—Coming forward pretty freely, and the market is easier in consequence, although prices are still maintained; 75a85c per bushel. Sweets, $2,50a2,75, per bbl for Baltimores, and $3,25a3,5 for Jerseys.

RAGS—Steady at 2½c ℔ lb for good country mixed.

SEEDS—Sales of Timothy seed at $2 ℔ bu. to the trade, and $2,15a2,25 in a small way.

TALLOW—Is reported easier; rough quo a 4½; city rendered, 8½c per lb; country, 7½c.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET

ARRIVALS.

Following shows the aggregate receipts for the week, as well as those of preceding week also:

	This week.	Last week.
Cattle	271 cars.	326 cars.
Hogs	192 "	188 "
Sheep	81 "	64 "
Total	544 "	578 "

Briggs, Dock & Drum, Commission Merchants for the sale of live stock, at the East Liberty Stock Yards, report the markets as follows:

CATTLE.

Of the 271 cars reported for the past week, 181 cars were through and 290 cars local against 108 cars of through, and 218 cars of local last week. Sales, 3,873 head; last week, 3,741 head.

While, as will be seen, the run of through cattle during the past week has been light, the arrivals of yard cattle have been much larger, nearly 300 cars, and with a heavy supply not only here, but at Buffalo and Baltimore as well, and very unfavorable reports from New York, the market, as might be expected, has been unfavorable to sellers. All grades of shipping cattle are lower, and the indications to-day are that there will be a still further decline before the close of the week as, at this writing, there are quite a number remaining in the pens unsold. Stockers and feeding cattle have undergone no change as compared with the preceding week, the fluctuations of the eastern markets having no influence on these grades. Following may be regarded as the ruling quotations:

Extra 1,400a1,500 steers	5,00a5,25
Prime 1,200a1,300 steers	4,40a4,60
Good 1,000a1,100 steers	4,00a4,25
Feeders 900a1,000 lbs	3,75a4,00
Stockers—700a800 lbs	3,00a3,50
Bulls, Cows and Stags	2,50a3,25

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The run, as will be seen, has not varied much from that of the preceding week in point of numbers, nor was there much difference in point of quality. For prime stock the market has been moderately active at last week's prices, but common stock was dull, and much harder to sell than the former at anything like a fair price. The feeling to-day was not as good as that of yesterday, the arrivals having been liberal, and, moreover, buyers generally appeared to have brought about all they wanted yesterday. Following may be regarded as the ruling quotations:

Extra 95a100 lbs	4,75a5,00
Prime 85a90 lbs	4,40a4,60
Good 75a80 lbs	4,00a4,25
Fair 70a75 lbs	3,75a3,90
Common 70a75 lbs	3,25a3,50
Indianas, as to quality	3,50a5,00

HOGS.

The receipts have been quite liberal during the past week, and mostly common in point of quality, hence while prime shipping grades have not declined more than 10a12½c ℔ cwt, common may be quoted down 25 to 30c ℔ cwt. To-day the market was considerably demoralized for Yorkers, as the supply was in excess of the demand, while Philadelphia hogs, on the other hand, sold pretty well up to former rates. Following are the prevailing rates as we close our report:

Philadelphia Hogs	6,25a6,50
York Hogs	5,50a5,80
Roughs	4,50a5,00

All drafts must be attached to the original shipping bill, and in no case drawn for more than two-thirds of stock. Please telegraph amount of draft and car Nos.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

The Crude market was weak and panicky today, in consequence of rumors of a probable general foreign war; and prices as compared with yesterday were considerably lower. United certificates were quoted this P. M. at $3,23¾a3,25, against $3,42½ same time yesterday. It is said that there are some holders in the producing region, who, in consequence of financial necessities, are forced to sell, and this, too, is not without its effect in depressing the market.

Refined quiet and unchanged; the combination are still holding firm at 26, and they dare not make a reduction even if so disposed; if they were to reduce the price to 25, exporters would at once want to buy at 24. However, the combination are able to keep the oil until the exporters want it, and there is not much doubt but the latter will have to accede to the views of the former.

Chicago Lumber Market.

The cargo market was fairly active yesterday and steady. A fleet of over 35 vessels was at the docks early, and local and country dealers appeared in the market and bought more than half the fleet in the forenoon. The offerings were principally of common stuff, all grades of which were steady, and piece stuff is firm. The receipts are falling off, and several mills have been closed, having cut up all their logs. Freights also firm. Piece stuff is firm at $7a7,55, the outside being for Manistee and Ludington cargoes. Common inch sells at $8a9, and the better grades at $10a14. Lath were steady at $1.20. Among the sales were 185,000 feet of strips and boards, on the schr Blake, from White Lake, at $12,50.

Chicago Seed Market.

For timothy the market ruled a trifle dull and an easier feeling prevailed. The offerings were somewhat larger, while there was a relative falling off in the demand, and the few buyers present were endeavoring to shade previous prices. The sales that were reported ranged at $1,70a1,75 for common to fair, $1,80a1,85 for good, 1,87½a1,90 for prime, and at $1,95 for choice. Clover was in good request and firm. Sold at $7,90a7,95. There was considerable flax sold and full former prices were maintained. Sold at $1,20a1,35 for only fair to prime. For Hungarian and millet the market remains lifeless, and prices nominal at 40a60c, according to quality.

Cincinnati Horse and Mule Market.

The sales at the Fifth street Horse Market for the past week foot up 270 head, of which two car loads, at $60 to 80 each, were shipped to Halifax, C. H., W. Va., and one car load at $85 to $100, to New Orleans. Most of the sales were round chunks, principally mares, weighing 800 to 900 lbs, at prices above named, and less. Good drivers are reported scarce and in good demand at $125a150 each. The market for mules is dull, and few are sold. Prices are: Fourteen hands $75a80, 15 and 16 hands $100a125.

RIVER NEWS.

State of the Rivers, Movements of Steamboats, &c.

THE stage of water last evening was 2 feet 8 inches and falling very slowly. Business was very quiet at the landing yesterday, notwithstanding the weather was all that could be desired.

THE towboats J. M. Camden and James Gilmore arrived.

ROUSTERS out of Memphis are getting from $40 to $45 per month.

CAPT. LEW KATES, of the Thos. Sherlock, is reported lying ill on the Sherlock.

THE Emma Graham will not come above Wheeling this trip; she may not get that far up.

THE iron Carondelet passed Arkansas city Saturday night with 5,200 bales cotton and 2,200 sks seed.

THE United States snagboat E. A. Woodruff, was to leave Cincinnati for Cairo yesterday, on a snagpulling expedition.

NAVIGATION on the Arkansas, between Little Rock and Fort Smith, is reported entirely suspended on account of low water.

A St. Louis paper says: "On the 16th of October, we think the year was 1863, there were four inches of snow in the streets of St. Louis."

MAJ. CHAS. B. SUTER has applied steam power to the steering apparatus on the steamer Jno. N. Macomb, which is pronounced a perfect success.

THE Fearless will be almost a new boat by the time the repairs now being made on her are completed. Among other things she will have an entire new battery of steel boilers.

THE John L. Rhoads, Capt. J. M. Vandergrift, we are glad to state, was gotten afloat again on Tuesday, and at last accounts was proceeding to her destination with her barge Luzerne in tow. It is hoped that she will have no further trouble.

A WASHINGTON special says, The Chief of Engineers has decided upon the distribution of the remaining portion of the river and harbor appropriations. While the details have not been made known, the selection of work to be prosecuted was determined in each case solely by its commercial importance, and generally those items which were introduced into the bill as the result of log-rolling by the members of each political party have been ignored.

THE Louisville correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial telegraphs to that paper the following: The funeral of James Howard took place this afternoon from his late residence, near his ship yard, at Jeffersonville. All the boats in port and many residences and business houses in this city were draped in mourning. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Craik, of the Episcopal church, after which the remains were escorted to the river by an immense number of people, including nearly all of the citizens of Jeffersonville, and a large number from New Albany and this city. The steamers Fawn, B. H. Cook and the ferryboats Sherley and Shallcross carried the people to and from Jeffersonville, landing with the remains at the foot of First street, and from thence the funeral cortege proceeded to Cave Hill Cemetery; where the remains were deposited in the vault of Captain Z. M. Sherley. Business was generally suspended in Jeffersonville, where James Howard was loved and honored by all, while his friends from this side of the river were legion, including the boatmen able to attend. Dispatches of condolence were sent from St. Louis and New Orleans. Capt. John Cannon, though in feeble health, was one of the pall-bearers, and Capt. Sam Sanders and others came down from Frankfort to attend the funeral. B. S. Osborne, editor of the Nautical Gazette, of New York, and the fraternity in this city and New Albany, were also in attendance. It was one of the largest funerals ever known in this vicinity, rendering due honor to the memory of the deceased, who was one of nature's noblemen and an honest man. James Howard, with his two brothers, had been located in Jeffersonville in boat building prior to the flood of 1847, thirty years, and the Western waters have ever since teemed with boats built by them. Previous to 1847 they had a ship yard in Shippingport. The passage over the river was noted by the tolling of the bells of the boats in port.

HOME NEWS.

The probabilities for to-day are falling barometer, southerly or easterly winds, warmer, cloudy and rainy weather.

The Nation Trust.

It is positively asserted by Mr. Schoyer and a number of the stockholders of the Nation Trust Company that $160,000 of the $240,000 of the compromise due the city last Sunday will be paid this week. The other $80,000 it is said will be paid in a short time.

The pardon of Grier has been laid over by the Board until the next meeting, which will take place Nov. 3d. The Board is satisfied of its power to grant a pardon before conviction, but in such action being without a precedent, it is desired to examine the case more fully.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

Fechter's Obenreizer is one of the most artistic and realistic impersonations that we have seen since Davenport played Sir Giles Overreach here. Its fascination is irresistible, and it embodys so much that the witnessing of two, three, or four representations does not diminish its interest. The excellent support given Mr. Fechter adds to the enjoyment and satisfaction of the performance.

"The Count of Monte Cristo" is in preparation and will be produced on Monday night. "Ruy Blas" will be played at the matinee and "Hamlet" for Mr. Fechter's benefit on Friday night.

Library Hall.

"Led Estray," one of Boucicault's French society plays, and a very strong one too, was enacted last night, Mrs. Bowers sustaining the part of Armande Chandoce. "Led Astray" is a disagreeable sort of a play, but nevertheless it affords many opportunities for effective acting, and Mrs. Bowers made the best of them all last night, winning several calls before the curtain. She is an actress of rare power, and one of the most pleasing features of her impersonations is the skill with which she controls her exhibitions of deep and intense feeling, never being otherwise than natural. "Led Astray" will be repeated to-night, and "Mary Stuart" to-morrow night for Mrs. Bowers' benefit.

Seats for the "Mighty Dollar" next week can be bought at the box office now.

MARRIED IN HASTE.

The Sudden Affection of Louisa Bred and Morritz Meyer for Each Other—A Wedding at Once

On Tuesday morning Louisa Bred arrived at the Union Depot, in this city, from Newark, Ohio, on her way to Beaver Falls, where she purposed becoming a domestic At the depot she met Morritz Meyer for the first time in her life. He made himself generally agreeable, learned where she was from, where going, and everything else he wanted to know. When, toward evening, Louisa was about to start for Allegheny, Meyer wound up his attentions by proposing that they get married. She consented and they at once went before a magistrate, whose name or place of business they afterward forgot, and were united in matrimony. After the ceremony they proceeded to the Federal street depot to look up her baggage. While the husband was making himself busy in many ways in her behalf William Toerner happened to come along. Toerner is acquainted with Louisa's brother in Newark, and has a slight acquaintance whith Louisa herself. When he saw this strange man make himself so extremely busy with her affairs, he mentally concluded that he had designs upon her, and assuming the role of champion, demanded to know what business he had with the lady. Louisa took Morritz' part, but Toerner would believe neither of them, and the result was a scene of a lively description. At this juncture officer Selfridge appeared and arrested all the parties. Louisa told her story to Mayor Phillips but when the latter asked to see her marriage certificate Meyer told him that he had burnt it up from fear of getting into trouble. His excuse was in one sense not bad. A marriage certificate has brought trouble to many a man who was light hearted and happy before he had it. The trio were locked up for the night, each one occupying a cell alone, and yesterday morning the Mayor discharged them, with a word of advice to Louisa that she had better allow her brother's friend to send her back home until she is better acquainted with her new and singularly acquired husband.

THE HUMANE SOCIETY.

Its Struggle for Existence—A Debt that Must be Paid or the Society Succumbs.

A meeting of the Humane Society was held yesterday afternoon chiefly for the purpose of devising means by which the debt that has accumulated in the prosecution of its work can be paid off. The amount is about $500, and unless it can be canceled the Society will be obliged to terminate its existence. The managers feel that while it has received all the moral support from the community and press that it could ask, there has not been extended to it that financial assistance which it merits and which many are amply able to accord it. It will be two years the 10th of next month since the Society was organized, and from the very day of its inception Superintendent Street has given it his valuable services without a penny of compensation. His home is in Salem, Ohio, but for two years he has lived in Pittsburgh overseeing the work of the Society and paying all his own individual expenses out of his own individual pocket. The Society has never given him a cent, nor has he asked for it. On the contrary he said yesterday afternoon that he had not yet seen the day that he felt at liberty to quit the Society he had helped to organize and the work it is doing. The greatest expense to the Society has been the Agent, to whom three months' wages are now due, but the good he has accomplished in stopping and preventing cruelty to animals immeasureably outweighs in value the money that has been paid him. Other items of expense are office rent, fuel, printing, &c. In two years the Society has not expended $3,000, and who will say that it has not been profitably and economically spent. There is not an organization of its kind in the United States that has cost so little in the same time. It was proposed that a concert or entertainment of some kind be given for the purpose of raising money, and a committee was accordingly appointed to make arrangements. Any organization desiring to contribute their services are requested to call upon Supt. Street, at his office, No. 298 Penn avenue.

THE SUFFERERS.

Funeral of Another Victim—Condition of the Wounded—The Contributions.

The funeral of James Creegan, another of the victims of the Zug's mill explosion, took place from his residence in Allegheny yesterday. The funeral was very largely attended by his late associates and the employes of other mills, which were closed to give the men an opportunity to attend. In addition to the long string of carriages, there were over two hundred men on foot, who gave testimony by their presence of the esteem in which Mr. Creegan was held, and their sympathy for his family.

It was reported last evening that another of the wounded men had died, but inquiry failed to corroborate the rumor. Of the wounded men it is certain that Marcellus Snyder, who lives at No. 22 Voigtly alley, will die. He is a boy about fifteen years old, and was a nail feeder. He has a very severe cut in his forehead, the skull being crushed and lying upon the brain. Dr. Riter, who is attending him, gave up all hopes of his recovry two or three days ago. James Kendricks, who lives in Mulberry alley, is also very low. He has one eye out, and is terribly cut on the head. His son, Henry, who lies in a bed opposite in the same room, has never spoken since the catastrophe, but still lives. It was thought from the first that he would die.

The measures for the relief of the sufferers, are progressing with commendable vigor. The proprietors of the mill are using every endeavor to ascertain the condition of the families, and see that they suffer from no immediate want. On last Sabbath young Mr. Zug, Mr. Graff, and Mr. McCune made twenty-two visits to the families of the afflicted in this city and Allegheny.

The amount of subscriptions received by Joseph Laurent, Esq., Treasurer of the Relief Fund, amounted yesterday afternoon to $1,371.

The following communication explains itself:

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

Please announce in your paper that I received from the St. James church $23.50 for the sufferers, which I have distributed as follows: Mr. Powers, $3.05; Mr. Burke, $5; Mr. Higgins, $5; Mr. Loper, $4; Mr. Kline, $4, and Mr. Kendrick, $3.62, making a total of $24.67 distributed.

JOHN D. MORELAND, Alderman.

Aldermen Corcoran and Koenig have received subscriptions so far to the amount of $230, of which about $20 are uncollected. They have distributed the amount so collected to the following sufferers, having in their hands a balance of about $10: James Kenrick, $45; Mrs. Murphy, $40; J. Higgins, $30; Charles Gangwisch, $20; Mrs. Sullivan, $17; Wm. Powers, $15; Frederick Kline, $10; Mrs. Kline, $5; Mrs. Eberhardt, $8; Mrs. Armand, $5; Simon Burland, $2; Otto Krack, $5—making a total given out of $202.

Since the appointment of the general distribution committee by the citizens' meeting, it would be well that all funds be turned over to that committee, so that an equitable distribution can be made.

HELD FOR TRIAL.

Final Hearing in the Shaffer Murder Case—Linkner Sent to Jail—Character of the Evidence Against Him—The Peregrinations of Himself and Shaffer Through the Rural Districts.

The hearing in the case of Henry Linkner, who was arrested on suspicion of having been concerned in the recent murder of his partner, Henry Shaffer, near Bakerstown, in West Deer township, came off before Mayor Phillips, of Allegheny, yesterday afternoon. The office was packed with people, and many who desired to hear the testimony were obliged to leave because they could not get in. District Attorney Montooth and W. C. Moreland appeared for the prosecution, and J. S. Ferguson, J. H. Miller and G. J. Lighten held for the defence. Among the persons present were Mrs. Shaffer, wife of the murdered man, his sister, and several other relatives, all being attired in black. The information made by Detective Bowden was read, and the prosecutor offered to be sworn, but counsel for the defense admitted for the time being the statements embraced in the information, and waived an examination of the Detective. John Cargo was then sworn and testified as follows: "I reside in West Deer township, this county. I did not know Henry Shaffer nor Henry Linkner, and never saw the latter but once, on last Thursday. I was raking in my yard, along side the Kittanning road, about two miles beyond Dorseyville, between one and two o'clock on Thursday afternoon last, when two men passed by. One was driving a cow and a calf, and the other was in a buggy. One of them asked me what I was doing there, and before I could reply he said, 'Oh, you are sowing timothy.' He then asked me if I had any fresh cows to sell, and I replied that I had not. They then passed on. Schaffer was in the buggy, and Linkner, who was driving the cow and calf, was about fifty yards ahead of Schaffer. They were not speaking or talking together. I never saw them again. I was away from home all the next day, and on my return in the evening I first heard of the murder. I did not see the body of the murdered man, but was at the place where it was found. Linkner had a stick in his hand when I saw him. (One of the sticks found at the scene of the murder was shown witness.) That looks like the stick he had."

Cross examined—I am sure this (Linkner) is the man I saw driving the cow. I recollect the stick for the reason that I noticed it was a very large one and I thought it unhandy to walk with.

COULDN'T IDENTIFY HIM.

John Glasgow testified that he lives in West Deer township, about three miles beyond Dorseyville. He couldn't say that he saw Linkner on the day of the murder, but he might have seen him. On the day of the crime he was threshing in his yard when he saw two men coming along. One of them was in a buggy and the other was driving a white cow and calf. He was asked if he had any fresh cows to sell, and he replied that he had not. The men were close together. The one on foot had a stick in his hand. Witness' house is about one hundred rods from where the murder was committed. It was near one o'clock when he saw the men. He had not seen the body of Shaffer.

Cross-examined—I can't say positively that this man (Linker) is the one I saw. I did not hear them speak together.

Wm. H. McGill related the following story: "I reside in West Deer township. Have never seen Linkner and never saw either of the men that I know of before this affair. I am a Justice of the Peace. Mr. Crawford, a neighbor, notified me that there was a man lying in the woods apparently dead. We went to the spot and found the body. The murder was committed on Thursday morning about 11½ o'clock. No one was able to recognize the remains. They were on a by-road, about fifteen or twenty rods from the Three-degree road, and about one hundred yards from Cargo's house. We found the body in a terribly mutilated condition about the head; the

TEMPLE WAS CRUSHED

in and there was a large gash on the top of the skull, through which the brains could be seen. The side of the head was broken in. The hands were also blackened and bruised as though the deceased had thrown them up to defend his head. The wounds were all made with a blunt instrument except the one on top of the head, which was made with a large stone, which we found there. Witness then described the clothing on Shaffer's body. We searched the clothing but found nothing valuable in the pockets; found neither money nor watch. (Clubs shown.) I saw that club with the blood and hair on lying about ten feet from the body. (Stone shown.) I found this stone within four feet of the body. I held the inquest and gave the body in charge of an undertaker. It was identified by a number of persons as that of Shaffer. I can not say that I saw Linkner on the day of the murder, but I did see a man driving a white cow and a calf and a horse and buggy following him. He spoke to the horse and beckoned it on The buggy was an open one and the horse was of a bay color. This was on Thursday afternoon about three o'clock. The body was stiff and cold when found."

Cross-examined—I saw but one person with the horse, buggy and cow when he passed my house. I never saw the defendant to recognize him. I would swear he is the man who passed my house. The murdered man was smaller than the defendant.

HUNTING A TAVERN.

Robert Cunningham saw a man driving a cow and calf past his house on the day of the murder, with a horse drawing an unoccupied buggy following him, but he could not swear that Linkner was the man. Jacob Mink gave the following evidence: "I am a farmer, and reside in West Deer township. I remember seeing the party driving the cow and calf on Thursday afternoon, between three and four o'clock. I saw him at the blacksmith shop about three miles from Harmarsville, with the horse and buggy right behind him. There was no one in the buggy. He inquired the nearest road to Hartz's, and then went on towards Dorseyville. I have seen him before. He has eaten dinner at my place. This is the man, (pointing to Linkner). The place where the murder was committed is about two miles on the other side of my place. The horse and buggy were following him. I was acquainted with Schaffer. He was with Linkner at the time they got dinner at my house." I asked Linkner where Schaffer was, and he replied that he had got out of the buggy and went down another road, but couldn't tell where he was going to. He said this at the blacksmith shop."

Cross-examined—The defendant locked about as usual and not as though he had had a scuffle with anyone. I am sure Linkner is the man I saw on that day.

John Hartz testified as follows: "I live in Hampton township, and am a blacksmith. I am acquainted with the defendant. I saw him at Dan. Hartz's Twelve Mile House, where I live, about dusk on Thursday evening. He had a white cow, calf, a bay horse and an open buggy. He staid there that night and I slept in the same room with him. I knew Shaffer and asked Linkner where he was. He replied that he had left him back near Saxonburg, where he had got into a dispute with a negro. Linkner left in the morning. His clothing was about as usual. I noticed he had a wound on one of his fingers. He told me he got it by using a stick on the cow out along the road.

Emil Clous, sworn—"I work for Dan Hartz. I saw the defendant coming there on last Thursday evening, between six and seven o'clock, with a cow, a calf, a bay horse and a buggy. I asked him where Shaffer was. He said that he was out in the country, and had stopped there to buy a cow, and also that he had had trouble with a negro. Linkner had a sore finger on his left hand. In the morning he asked me if there was any blood on his face. He left there about seven o'clock in the morning, and said he would take the plank road to the city.

Cross-examined—The finger was not bleeding. There was no blood on his face. He had the wound on his finger before he went into the stable. He did not appear to be excited.

THE PRISONER'S ARREST.

Detective Scott, sworn—"I assisted in arresting Linkner at Trimble's cow market on Saturday morning last at nine o'clock I was present and assisted in searching him in the lock-up. We got a watch and two pocket books, one of which contained $17 and some cents, and the other one contained one $20 note and eight $10 notes. The money in the last one had blood on it and he attempted to conceal the pocket book when we searched him. He slipped it out of his coat and into his pantaloons, but Detective Bowden happened to see him and took it from him."

Mrs. Catharine Shaffer, sworn—"I am Henry Schaffer's widow. He was buried on last Sunday afternoon at two o'clock in Zimmerman's Cemetery, on the Brownsville road. I last saw him alive on Tuesday morning of last week. He said he wanted to go to Butler county. He went away with Linkner, who has lived with us during the last three years. My husband had a pocket book. I gave it to him on Tuesday morning. (Pocket book shown to witness.) This is the one he had. It belonged to me and I gave it to him. I can identify it because I had carried it for a year or more, and besides that I sewed it in one place where it was torn. (Witness here opened the pocket book and showed where she had sewed it.) My husband was fifty-three years of age. He had money with him when he left home. I counted out $145 in ten and five dollar notes which I gave to him just before he left and besides that he had a roll of money."

Cross-examined—I am sure that is my pocket book, as I carried it continually for more than a year before I gave it to my husband that morning. The defendant was in partnership with my husband. Shaffer took his horse and buggy with him when he went away. They went out every week to buy cows. They were both on good terms, I believe.

LINKNER'S STORY.

Re-direct Examination—It was an open buggy and a bay horse. Linkner came to the house on Friday evening about dusk. He had my husband's overcoat with him. I asked him where my husband was, as he never came home before without him. He replied, "Wait, only wait, until I come down." When he came I asked him again. He told me that they had left a place on Thursday morning, early, and travelled three or four miles before breakfast. At noon Shaffer said they must have something to eat, and also something for the horse. They stopped at a house where an Irish woman lived, who gave them their dinner. Then they drove on a short distance, when Shaffer drove off another way to see about another cow; he told Linkner to go on and he would catch up with him again. Linkner then went on until he came to a blacksmith shop, about dusk, where they asked him where Shaffer was, and he answered that he was coming on behind him, and while he was there the horse came up to him. I asked him why he did not at once go back in search of Shaffer, and he said that he could not let the cow go. I did not notice anything unusual about him except that he had a sore finger, which he said he had received while tying up the cow. He did not saying anything about Shaffer having had any trouble with any person. He only told me to keep quiet.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

The above concluded the evidence, and then District Attorney Montooth said he had nothing more to offer. Mr. Ferguson, in behalf of the prisoner, then addressed the Mayor, and said that the defense had no witnesses to call. They had not yet had time to confer with their client, but he thought the Commonwealth had not established their case against Linkner. It was merely a case of suspicion, and the evidence was not enough in his opinion to hold the prisoner for trial. He reviewed the testimony to show that the defendant had not been fully identified.

Mr. Miller next addressed his Honor, and said that he would recommend that the detectives do not give up their investigation of this affair as long as there is a doubt as to the defendant.

Mayor Phillips said he was of the opinion the prisoner ought to be held for trial and he would therefore commit him to jail to await trial.

All of the witnesses present were notified to appear before the Grand Jury to-day, as that body has remained in session purposely to dispose of this case. About six o'clock last evening detectives Scott and Geary removed Linkner to the jail.

THE COURT RECORD.

A Complete Record of the Proceedings in the Courts Yesterday.

Supreme Court.

(Before Chief Justice Agnew and Justices Sharswood, Mercur, Gordon, Paxson and Woodward.)

Court Brevities.

JNO. R. LARGE, ESQ., attorney for Messrs. Betts and Kerr, the unfortunate prosecutors in the oil barrell cases, who were committed to jail in default of payment of costs imposed upon them by the Grand Jury, applied to the Supreme Court for a special allocatur for the purpose of having the matter revised in that Court. The matter is held under advisement.

THE promptness with which William alias "Bull" White was disposed of is highly commendable, and will do more to deter others of his ilk from the commission of crime, than the severest sentence that could be imposed. It is the swift and severe justice that criminals fear, and not mere punishment. White assaulted and robbed Charles Godfrey, a saloon keeper on Third avenue, in his saloon, Tuesday he was arrested and committed for trial. Yesterday the Grand Jury returned a true bill, the case was called for trial, the defendent pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to five years imprisonment in the Penitentiary, to which place he was conveyed by the Sheriff within an hour after sentence was passed upon him.

Where to Buy—How to Save.

Our readers remember the very low prices at which men and boys' dress shirts, men, boys' and women's undergarments, gloves, stockings, knit jackets, &c., were sold last autumn by H. J. Adams, 98 Fifth avenue. His prices met the times and he was always busy. He informs us that he is now selling goods much lower now than even then. Mr. Adams buys only good, reliable goods, and his stock, which never was so complete as at present, comprises the choicest and also more common goods suited to the needs and purse of gentlemen, mechanics or laboring men. We give below the price of a few articles:

Men's White and Fancy Shirts	65c to $2 00
Men and Boys' Shirts and Drawers	25c to 2 50
Ladies' Under Vests and Drawers	50c to 1 25
Wool Over Shirts	50c to 2 00
Knit Wool Jackets	75c to 3 00
Wool and Cotton Socks	6c to 75c
Wool and other Gloves	20c to 75c

Buck, Lined Kid, Calf and Castor Gloves, Silk and Wool Mufflers, Handkerchiefs, Suspenders, Ties, Collars, &c., at similarly reduced prices. It will pay to go there.

"There's Nothing Half So Sweet

In life as love's young dream." The writer of these good old lines evidently didn't live to taste Kinder Blair's Caramels, or he would have placed them ahead of "Love's young dream" by a large majority. The dream is a dream only, but Blair's Caramels are a delightful reality.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

Yesterday's Proceedings in the Fourth Avenue Church (Dr. Pearson's)—An Eloquent Sermon by Dr. E. L. Magoon.

The second day's proceedings of the Baptist Association of Pennsylvania, opened yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, in Dr. Pearson's church, corner Fourth avenue and Ross street, with a prayer and praise meeting, led by Gen. Lane. At its conclusion the Society was called to order by Rev. Dr. Shadrach, D. D., of Indiana, Pa., and Rev. G. M. Spratt, D. D., presented the annual report of the Board of Managers of the Education Society. This stated that "the year has been averse to increased collections from the churches. We report, however, no falling off in the receipts or in the number of contributing churches. The total income for the year, closing July 15th, is $11,624.29, expenditures, including an investment of some $500, amount to $13,550.25, showing a deficit." Upon the conclusion of the reading and adoption of this report, the Committee on Obituaries presented a report, and made special mention of the decease of Deacon Isaac Ford, who had been one of the Board of Managers for the past sixteen years.

The Committee on Arrangements reported Philadelphia as the place for the next annual meeting, and Rev. J. M. Pendleton was selected to preach the annual sermon.

The election of officers for the following year was next held, and the following selections made: President, Thos. J. Hoskinson; Secretary, J. G. Walker; Treasurer, Levi Knowles.

Rev. Dr. Loomis, D. D., then delivered an address in advocacy of the claims of "Higher Education." After making an eloquent exposition of his theme, he closed by calling special attention to the University at Lewisburg, Pa., and urged that it be given the utmost support of the denomination.

Rev. J. H. Kelly followed with an eloquent address on "Our University—Its Claims," and was succeeded by Rev. T. G. Walker, who spoke upon "General Education and Local Organizations."

A number of other gentlemen made short addresses, after which the meeting adjourned.

AFTERNOON.

In the afternoon the Forty-ninth General Anniversary of the Pennsylvania Baptist General Association commenced at the same place.

The President, Rev. Samuel A. Crozer, presided. After devotional exercises, and the appointment of the usual committees, the report of the Board of Managers was read by Rev. Levi C. Black. Rev. Wm. Shadrach, D. D., Rev. J. S. Wrightnour, and Rev. D. W. C. Hervey made addresses, after which the report was adopted and ordered printed in the minutes.

Letters from the Northumberland, Philadelphia, Clarion, West Philadelphia, Beaver, Ten Mile, Oil Creek, Bradford, Monongahela, Wyoming, Wheeling, Centre, French Creek, Bridgewater and Pittsburgh Associations were received.

Addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. Shadrach, Rev. Samuel Williams and Rev. H. L. Wayland, D. D.

The Committee on Place and Preacher for the next anniversary reported Philaddlphia as the place, and Rev. R. W. Pearson, D. D., as the preacher.

After the devotional exercises an adjournment was had until evening.

DR. MAGOON'S SERMON.

About half-past seven o'clock the Association reassembled, an excellent audience being present. After devotional exercises, addresses were delivered by Rev. J. O. Critchlow, of Lancaster, and Rev. B. Griffith, D. D., of Philadelphia. Dr. Griffith's remarks were in reference to church collections. He deprecated the great falling off manifested during the past few years, and said that the most potent reason for it was the growing desire for ostentatious display. One man may give $10 and because his neighbor can't afford to give that much he gives nothing. When, said he, you get the people educated up to give ten cents when they can give no more, then there will be no lack of funds.

Rev. E. L. Magoon, D. D., then delivered the annual sermon. His text was the 18th verse of the 119th Psalm: "Open Thou my eyes that I may behold wondrous things out of Thy law." Dr. Magoon is both eloquent and dramatic, and a perfect elocutionist. A remarkable feature of his delivery is that he seldom gesticulates with his hands, keeping them locked behind him almost constantly. It is rarely, indeed that a more finished discourse is heard by any audience, and he received the closest attention throughout the whole of his remarks. Speaking of the doctrines of Darwin and Tyndall, he said their books are of that class that it is well for one to take to a sequestered spot, and read carefully. But still their theories, he said, were but those of finite beings. We want to know something of the speaker as well as of that which is spoken, and when we find that the speaker is liable to err as well as we, then it is that one turns again to the Bible, whose author is the Infinite. Were these works of the great philosophers religious dissertations, the speaker said, they would not receive one-half the attention, nor be treated with the importance that they are. While admitting the plausibility of the theory of Darwin, the speaker yet insisted that the theory must be modified, or the philosophers be laid open to the charge of ignoring facts. The world is too quick to believe as a fact any secular statement, while just as ready to reject a spiritual fact.

Upon the conclusion of the eloquent remarks of Dr. Magoon, singing and prayer concluded the service, and the meeting adjourned.

The services at the church this evening will be unusually interesting, especially in the musical features. Among other vocalists who will participate are Misses Colville, Wallace and Henne, Messrs. Colville, Earle, Everson, Edwards, Balph and Mayerhofer.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Local Political Notes—Meetings in and About the City.

The Columbus, Ohio, Dispatch makes the following comments: "On last Saturday night there were two immense political processions in Pittsburgh, one Democratic and the other Republican. They numbered about six thousand torches each, and although they were frequently in close proximity, and crossed one another's line of march at times, there was not the least disturbance, but on the other hand frequently exchanged compliments. This is as it should be, but it is doubtful if there is another city in the country where it would be safe to try a similiar experiment."

There appears to be some dissatisfaction relating to the route proposed for the East End demonstration Saturday evening. The Twenty-first ward Republicans are not pleased at the decision to leave out East Liberty, or that portion of it east of Hiland avenue, and are afraid some of the clubs will not turn out unless the route is changed. Those complaining insist that the procession should march to Point Breeze either via Penn or Fifth avenue, and return the other, instead of countermarching on Hiland avenue, and dismissing on Penn avenue. Gen. Negley, the Chief Marshall will no doubt make such changes as will insure the success of the demonstration.

Geo. W. Wright yesterday received the Republican nomination for Senate in the Mercer and Lawrence districts.

The Hayes and Wheeler club, of McKeesport, will attend the East End parade on Saturday evening. They expect to send the two full companies, numbering about three hundred men.

Major A. J. Pentecost, Marshal of the Western Division, North Side, for the grand torchlight procession of Saturday, October 21st, has announced the following staff and aids:

A. J. Pentecost, Marshal.
H. Richard Davis, Adjutant General.
W. S. Huselton, M. D., Chief of Staff.

Aids—Geo. W. Reed, Dr. D. W. Riggs, Thos. Edwards, Wm. Beilstein, Ben. Anderson, Robert McAfee, C. B. Welty, H. M. Boyle, Wm. Peters, John Clements, Clark Anderson, B. C. Christy, J. M. Courtney, W. Gen. John A. Logan, of Illinois, passed through the city Tuesday evening, on his way to Washington.

A Republican meeting will be held at Wilkinsburg to-morrow night, and a banner presented to the marching club of that place. Hon. J. C. Newmyer will make the presentation speech.

Once upon a midnight dreary, as I pondered weak and weary.
On my teeth, and how o save hem; as I sighed, as was my wont,
Suddenly I heard a tapping, as of some one gently rapping,
And a voice then said distinctly, "You must try the SOZODONT;
"You must use it night and morning, you must use it o'er and o'er,
"Teeth will whiten, breath will sweeten, and they'll vex you never more."

BREVITIES.

····Tuesday evening the residence of Mrs. Conners, on Twelfth street, South Side, was entered during the absence of the family, and two watches, some silver money and a quantity of jewelry was stolen.

····The Morris-Scharff race, to take place next Saturday, is the chief topic of conversation among sporting men. Both the contestants are practicing daily on the course, and know every riffle and eddy on it already.

····The Coal Exchange will meet next Tuesday morning for the purpose of devising means to increase its efficiency. A preliminary meeting with that object in view was held on Tuesday of this week, and an adjournment had to the time mentioned.

····Another seven dollar excursion train over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, in charge of Gus. Braun, left yesterday morning. There were something over six hundred passengers. Smythe takes another excursion this morning over the Pennsylvania railroad. Another excursion train on the Baltimore & Ohio road leaves next Tuesday.

····A little girl five years of age, daughter of Michel Heber, residing on Penn avenue, in the Twelfth ward, was severely burned yesterday afternoon. She was playing with a lighted torch when her clothing caught fire and before the flames could be extinguished she was frightfully burned. Drs. J. A. and G. H. McCready were summoned and rendered the necessary medical aid. At last accounts she was doing well, but was in a very critical condition.

····An alarm of fire from box 52 was struck shortly after seven o'clock yesterday morning. The cause was the discovery of fire on the roof of a two story brick dwelling house on Ann street, between Pride and Stevenson streets, owned and occupied by J. G. Klause. The roofs of three adjoining houses also caught. One of these was owned by Mr. Freidenberg, and two by Mrs. Patterson. The fire department was on the grounds promptly, and subdued the flames before great damage was done. The loss will not be more than $1,500.

····Henrietta Coulter, a member of the Zion Baptist colored church, of Allegheny, was fined five dollars and costs yesterday at the instance of R. B. Coulter, an elder in the same church, for disorderly conduct. The offence was committed in Sunday School on Sabbath afternoon last, and consisted in several times knocking Mr. Coulter's foot from against a pillar with the aid of which he had tilted back and placed himself in a comfortable position. The feeling in the church against Mr. Coulter is pretty strong on the part of the women because he prosecuted the minister about a year ago.

····A runaway accident occurred near Chartiers borough, Tuesday, which resulted in the death of Amanda Zeller, a little girl aged nine years. She was in company with Mr. Frank Krone, to whose place she was going to pick apples. On the way Mr. Krone stopped off to get a ladder. Before he returned the horses ran off, and the child was thrown out on the road, where she was picked up bleeding and injured internally. She was carried into the house of Mr. Allen, where she died half an hour afterward. An inquest was held by the Coroner, resulting in a verdict of accidental death. The father of the child is a mill laborer in Temperanceville.

····From the Washington Reporter we learn that a Mr. Joseph Andrews, of Cross Creek township, Washington county, while returning home late Friday night on horseback, was attacked by three men, who sprang from the roadside and dragging him from his horse, beat and cut him in a most shocking manner about the face, head and neck. Under this treatment he soon became insensible, and the assassins, doubtless believing him dead, carried him off the road into a by-place, and left him there. In the meantime the horse ran home and was cared for. No notice was taken of the matter, the family supposing the young man would return soon. But he lay where he had been carried in an insensible condition until some time during the next afternoon, when he managed to find his way home. The whole affair is a mystery.

PERSONAL.

Rev. Alexander Clark, of the Methodist Recorder, will have several fresh lectures for the coming winter.

Mr. Thomas Cook, of London, a mem of the excursion firm of Cook, Son & Jenkins, will deliver a temperance lecture this evening in the Sandusky street Baptist church, Allegheny.

Miss Emma Ogden, of this city will, sail for Madura, India, on the 4th prox. to take charge of the mission at that place in accordance with an appointment from the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. Miss Ogden is a graduate of the Philadelphia Female Medical College.

We notice in our Ohio exchanges many complimentary notices of the speeches of Hon. S. N. Pettis, of Meadville. It appears that after spending a fortnight in Ohio and returning home he was again summoned by the State Central Committee of that State to labor in the Ohio canvass. Judge Pettis is a thorough bred politician and a most effective stump-speaker. The Sandusky Register speaks of the Judge's speech in that city as one of the best ever delivered there and as productive of much good.

The Reformed Church.

IRWIN, October 17, 1876.

The ministers and members of Synod were directed to forward to the Historical Society of the Reformed Church at Lancaster, Pa., all documents and publications which have reference to the history of the church. Twenty-five hundred dollars were apportioned for missions, of which five hundred goes to Iowa. The term of office of the Synodical editor, Rev. J. M. Litzel, A. M., was fixed at three years. Report of the state of religion gave many hopeful signs among the congregation of the Synod. Revs. D. W. Wolf and F. Weise have, through death, been called up higher. The sum of one thousand dollars was voted to Rev. G. B. Russell, D.D., for losses sustained in giving up the publication of his paper. A summary of the results of the labor in the Synod shows the following results, viz., 892 baptisms, 539 confirmations, 322 received by certificate, $6,002.27 for benevolence, $13,266.92 for local purposes, $30,621 83 for pastors' salaries.

The Synod adjourned Tuesday afternoon.

The meeting of Synod was a pleasant one. Many thanks are due to Rev. J. M. Litzel the pastor, his members and those of sister denominations who received and entertained the delegates with such consideration for their comfort. All carry to their homes pleasant remembrances of the kindress and pleasant social intercourse which they enjoyed in the Christian families of the people of Irwin. May the good Lord abundantly reward them.

Popular Science Monthly.

The Popular Science Monthly for November, D. Appleton & Co., publishers, contains a valuable original contribution to the history of American science, showing that we had "Darwinists" here before Darwin. "Physical Science in English Schools" contains useful suggestions to educators. The "Difficulties of Development as Applied to Man" is a brilliant statement of the obstacles in the way of one application of evolutionary doctrines. "The So-Called Conflict of Science and Religion" is ably discussed by Principal Dawson. An article on "Astronomy in America" gives a history of our progress in that science during the last half century.

"THE WEDDING BELLS."

A Hymenial Sensation in Steubenville—Marriage in High Life—A Fashionable Gathering—Political Notes.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

STEUBENVILLE, October 18, 1876.

HYMENIAL.

The great event of the season in Steubenville circles was the marriage to-day of Mr. John W. Gray, one of the most prominent and highly respected merchants of this city, and Mrs. Nellie A. Egner nee Jones, formerly of Galion, Crawford county, Ohio. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride, No. 209 South Sixth street, this afternoon at half past four o'clock, the service being performed by Rev. James R. Mills, D. D., of Kramer church, the pastor of the bride. There were also present, assisting in the ceremony, Rev. James S. Bracken, Presiding Elder of Steubenville district, and Rev. O. V. W. Chandler, pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist church in this city. The affair was a brilliant one throughout. The guests began arriving as early as three o'clock, and at half past four, the time announced for the ceremony to take place, standing room was not attainable either in the main parlors or in the sitting rooms.

About two hundred invitations had been extended, and it is probable that about three-fourths—the full capacity of the house—were present. About one-fourth the number present appeared in evening dress, many of the ladies toilets rivaling that of the bride in beauty. Mrs. Egner is is a brunette, a little above the medium stature and possessing much grace and dignity of carriage. She wore seal brown silk, with court train, trimmed with raw point lace, the whole covered with an illusion veil, depending from a wreath of orange blossoms. Mr. Gray is a gentleman of fine physique, a native of Steubenville, highly respected by all classes of citizens, and especially those of the more humbler walks of life. The presents were numerous and costly, and included dresses, pearl and gold jewelry, solid silver sets, besides many single pieces, all of the most handsome and elaborate designs. At the conclusion of the marriage ceremony the bride and groom received the congratulations and well wishes of the large assemblage, after which the entire party sat down to a bountiful repast gotten up by the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray left this evening on the Limited Mail for an extensive tour through the West, and will probably visit California before their return.

POLITICAL.

To-morrow night the Republicans will have a grand torchlight procession in honor of the recent victories of the Democratic party, by which they lost twelve Congressmen in this State and Indiana, and the reliability of John G. Thompson as a telegraphic prophet as to the result in Colorado. John gave great comfort to the boys in this section by his enthusing dispatches, but they are not so enthusiastic now as they were. The rag baby portion of our citizens propose having a procession on Friday evening after the arrival of the gravel train. What they intend to celebrate I am at a loss to know, but they are going to celebrate and that is enough. We shall, however, see what we shall see, and no preventive Providence will send you a pencil photograph.

REP.

John Murray to Catharine Lardwich, April 1, 1874; 2 lots in McLain & Maple's plan of Murray farm.....$750
C. F. Klepfer to Rosina Schueler, August 17, 1871, two lots in Shaler township.....$500

Gents' Cloth Overgaiters

and Enamel Leather Leggins at C. H. Dietrich's, 160 Smithfield street.

A business house that builds its hopes upon good goods, honest representations and low prices cannot fail of success, and here we have struck the key note of the prosperity that has followed the great carpet house of Oliver McClintock & Co., 33 Fifth avenue. During the past forty years the terms "McClintock and Carpets" have been inseparable, and housekeepers have learned to know that a carpet bearing a McClintock tag bears a true certificate of character with it. They have attained such a position in the commercial world here and in the estimation of our people that they must of necessity always offer to the public the best goods at the lowest possible rates. Let those needing new carpets this fall bear this in mind, and by an inspection of the immense assortment of everything in the carpet line, to be found at 33 Fifth avenue, they will assuredly verify our assertion.

'Tis Sweet to Remember

That the sweetest of the sweet, i. e., Blair's Walnut candy, can always be procured at Blair's complete establishment on Fifth Avenue and on Federal street, Allegheny. It is a confection that does not cloy upon the taste, and that has an original and delightful flavor of its own.

GREAT SWEEPING

AUCTION SALE,

OF SUBURBAN REAL ESTATE,

In 1-4 Acre, 1 Acre and 5 Acre

LOTS,

(On the Ground Rent Plan, no Cash Capital required.) At SWISSVALE, on P.R.R.

Property of John McKelvey, Esq.

WILL BE SOLD AT AUCTION, ON

WEDNESDAY, October 25, at 1 o'clock.

Property is beautifully situate, three minutes' walk from Swissvale Station, adjacent to public school, contiguous to stores and Postoffice, only 8 miles from Union Depot, on P. R. R. Being out of the city limits, taxes are a mere trifle; pure air, no smoke, plenty of good water, select society; railroad fare to the property will be about the same as street car fare in the city.

Here is the long sought for ELDORADO of real estate speculators and mechanics; the whole property must positively be sold at whatever sacrifice.

Let it be remembered that there is no cash capital required, buyers will only pay the interest on their purchases at 6 per cent. per annum, payable half yearly, and as the entire property is to be sold at auction only,

Every Man Can Buy at His Own Price.

Good title given to every lot. Sale will commence at 1 o'clock on the property.

Take 11:49 A. M. train from the Union Depot for Swissvale.

Plans and further information can be obtained from Mr. McKelvey at the property, or

ELEGANT

Suburban Residence

With 5 or 9 acres of land, at SWISSVALE, on P. R. R., just outside the city limits,

On Wednesday, Oct 25, at 12-30 o'clock.

There will be sold at Auction on the premises, that beautiful Brick Residence, (now occupied by R. E. Sellers, Esq.,) situate near Swissvale Station, on P. R. R., and containing 10 dwelling apartments, together with Bath Room, large dry Cellar, wide Hall, inside Shutters, Patent Range, and also fitted up for Gas; front and back Porch, Mansard Roof, &c. There is also a good Coal House, Wash House, Pump and Cistern Water, &c. There are 9 acres of land adjoining the residence, which will be sold as a whole, or divided into two parts of 5 and 4 acres each, at the option of the purchasers. The entire property is situate quite convenient to Swissvale station, and occupies an exceedingly pleasant and commanding site. There is no more delightful or attractive property within the same distance of Pittsburgh, and has the advantage of light taxation, with city privileges. Trains run almost every hour to and from the city daily. Any person seeking a good suburban home should not fail to examine the above property.

N. B.—As the sale must necessarily be positive, a rare bargain may be expected. Persons going with 10:40 A. M. train from Union Depot for Swissvale will be in time for the sale. Terms will be made to suit purchasers; only a small amount will be wanted down. Further information can be obtained from
